

Fujitsu Limited selects Artiza's DuoSIM-5G for base station evaluation

04 June 2020

Press Release

- Fujitsu placed an order for Artiza's 5G testing solution, DuoSIM-5G, for evaluation and development of their 5G network equipment.
- The deal will move the ongoing relationship between the two companies into the latest generation of mobile network technology.

TOKYO

Fujitsu Limited (TSE: 6702) placed an order with Artiza Networks, Inc. (TSE: 6778) for their 5G mobile network equipment testing solution, DuoSIM-5G. The two companies have built a relationship testing previous generations of telecommunication equipment.

The DuoSIM-5G tests the function and performance of 5G network equipment. It is capable of testing equipment's ability to support features key to implementing 5G networks such as high data volumes and rates, low latency, and massive simultaneous connections.

This most recent order has been incorporated into the business plans for the current financial year and will not have a major impact on financial results. Due to a confidentiality agreement, details on the amount of orders received, contract amount, etc. will not be disclosed.
