Notice Concerning Impact of heavy rain in Kyushu region

RENOVA, Inc. expresses its support and solidarity towards those who have recently been impacted by heavy rain in Kyushu region.

We have confirmed that we have sustained no damage that will significantly affect our large-scale solar PV plants, Biomass power plant and other businesses under development in the wake of heavy rain, which caused damage in Kyushu region starting on the early morning of July 4, 2020.

However, Due to a power outage caused by damage to Kyushu Electric Power's transmission system, Kokonoe Solar Power Plant (Kokonoe Town, Kusu District, Oita Prefecture generation capacity of 25.4 MW) was suspended at 8:30 on July 7. After investigating the situation in detail, we will announce any further action separately.

If any new damage occurs in the future, we will immediately make another announcement.
