1. Outline of BELS

BELS is a third-party evaluation system that displays the energy-saving performance of buildings. From April 2016, real estate companies and others are required to make efforts to display the energy saving performance of buildings based on the Act on the Improvement of Energy Consumption Performance of Buildings (“Building Energy Efficiency Act”). The concrete labeling method is stipulated in the guidelines for energy saving performance display of buildings. BELS is evaluated based on the same guidelines, and the certification rank is represented by number of stars (from one star “★” to five stars “★★★★★”).

ZEB (Net Zero Energy Building) is a building that aims at zero energy balance with considerably reduced annual primary energy consumption by saving as much energy as possible via better thermal insulation of the building and highly efficient equipment, coupled with creating energy by photovoltaic power generation (or other energy generating methods), while maintaining a comfortable environment.. In the BELS certification system, the certification of the level of ZEB is presented in four stages: “ZEB,” “Nearly ZEB,” “ZEB Ready,” and “ZEB Oriented.”
