1. Qualitative Information Regarding Settlement of Accounts for the Six Months Ended September 30, 2022

(1) Explanation on Operating Results

(a) Status of Operating Results

During the six months ended September 30, 2022, the world economy suffered globally high inflation caused by workforce shortages and logistical stagnation stemming from COVID-19 and by rising energy prices prompted by Russia's invasion of Ukraine with the result that European and U.S. central banks shifted to monetary tightening.

China was faced with a growing risk of economic deterioration as evidenced by a stagnating economy and sluggish private-sector enterprises, affected by its zero-COVID policy.

Meanwhile, the Japanese economy as a whole was buoyant as consumer spending showed signs of recovery, helped by progress in COVID-19 vaccinations, and capital expenditures and public works turned to positive growth.

As a result, net sales for the six months ended September 30, 2022 were 320,699 million yen (up 19.2% year-on-year). Operating profit was 12,299 million yen (up 221.8% year-on-year), ordinary profit came to 11,067 million yen (up 163.1% year-on-year), and profit attributable to owners of parent was 9,186 million yen (up 163.6% year-on-year).

(b) Overview by Segment

Results for the six months ended September 30, 2022 by business are as follows.

<Wholesale pulp and paper, domestic locations>

During the six months ended September 30, 2022, the paper segment saw sales volume decline year-on-year as demand for graphic paper rebounded only to a limited extent despite a calming down of COVID-19 infections. Due to sales price revisions and rising export prices amid the depreciation of the yen, net sales grew year-on-year.

On the other hand, the paperboard segment saw sales volume decline year-on-year despite persistently strong sales of corrugated cardboard base paper for the e-commerce-driven home delivery business and beverage packaging materials. Sales of packaging paperboard grew year-on-year due to some signs of demand recovery, coupled with sales price revisions.

The paper production material segment saw both sales volume and net sales grow year-on-year as prices rose due to strong demand while waste paper production declined. Although demand from domestic household paper manufacturers fell, the pulp segment greatly exceeded the previous year in net sales, helped by stronger exports and an increase in sales unit prices.

As a result, net sales were 133,675 million yen (up 7.9% year-on-year), and operating profit was 3,611 million yen (up 47.6% year-on-year) for the six months ended September 30, 2022.

<Wholesale pulp and paper, overseas locations>

Europe

The Europe business continued to perform strongly due to a revival of various events amid the atmosphere of living with COVID-19 and tight demand-supply, although the end of Russia's invasion of Ukraine was nowhere in sight. As for the paper business, in particular, net sales greatly grew year-on-year as market prices rose in response to a number of upward price revisions. The packaging business continued to perform well, supported by strong demand. The performance of the visual communication business climbed thanks to rising demand for outdoor advertisements and vehicle graphics.

Oceania

Net sales of the Australia business grew year-on-year, helped by a set of acquisitions of local companies, while the market conditions of segments turned strong.

The New Zealand business fared well as its performance was generally shored up from low levels despite sales opportunity losses owing to supply shortages.

Southeast Asia

The Southeast Asia business saw sales prices decline due to price competition amid sluggish market performance in Singapore, Malaysia, and Thailand in the main. Meanwhile, net sales declined year-on-year although operating profit improved due to realignment and consolidation of group companies.

China

Demand for paper and board paper was lackluster, causing both sales volume and net sales to decline year-on-year, which was attributable to repeated city lockdowns while real demand was sluggish from the start of the year.

As a result, the overseas business recorded net sales of 186,431 million yen (up 28.9% year-on-year) and operating profit of 10,287 million yen (up 273.8% year-on-year) for the six months ended September 30, 2022. Overseas sales accounted for 58.1% of consolidated net sales.

<Real estate leasing>

In the office building market in major cities across Japan, the average vacancy rate, which had been on an upward trend since the surge in COVID-19 infections, lacked strength, making the outlook uncertain despite a moderate improvement in companies' intention to expand their office space. Rents were generally weak due to rent adjustments intended to secure tenants, among other factors.

Sales and profits declined year-on-year as rent revenue fell due to vacancy periods caused by the redevelopment of rental parking lots and tenant replacement for the KPP Yaesu Building. This was despite increased sales by some leased building spaces of the Group owing to a management system revamp. As a result, net sales were 592 million yen (down 4.8% year-on-year) and operating profit was 58 million yen (down 32.6% year-on-year) for the six months ended September 30, 2022.

(2) Explanation on Financial Position

Total assets at the end of the second quarter ended September 30, 2022 were 320,706 million yen, up 29,999 million yen from the end of the previous fiscal year. This was due mainly to an increase in trade receivables and inventory assets.

Liabilities were 253,021 million yen, up 18,689 million yen from the end of the previous fiscal year. This was due mainly to an increase in trade payables and short-term borrowings.

Net assets came to 67,684 million yen, up 11,310 million yen from the end of the previous fiscal year. This was due mainly to recording of profit attributable to owners of parent. As a result of the above, the equity ratio was 21.1%, up 1.7 points from the end of the previous fiscal year.

(3) Explanation of consolidated financial results forecast and other forward-looking information Considering our recent business performance, we have revised the consolidated financial forecasts for the fiscal year ending March 2023 released on May 13, 2022.
