Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

1. Reporting Entity

Itochu Enex Co., Ltd. (the “Company”) is an entity located in Japan. The addresses of the Company’s registered head office and principal offices are available on its website (URL: <https://www.itcenex.com/english/>). The Company’s consolidated financial statements, the closing date of which is March 31, 2023, comprise the accounts of the Company and its subsidiaries (the “Group”) and the Group’s equity interests in associates and joint ventures. The Group’s principal activities are sales of petroleum products and liquefied petroleum gas (“LPG”) and the provision of related services in Japan and overseas as well as supply of electricity and heat in Japan.

2. Basis of Consolidated Financial Statements

(1) Compliance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRSs”)

The Group’s consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with IFRSs.

These consolidated financial statements were approved on August 9, 2023 by Yasuhiro Imazawa, the Chief Financial Officer of the Company.

(2) Basis of Measurement

Except for the cases (e.g., financial instruments) stated in Note 3, “Significant Accounting Policies,” the Company’s consolidated financial statements are prepared on a historical cost basis.

(3) Functional Currency and Presentation Currency

The consolidated financial statements of the Group are presented in Japanese yen, which is the Group’s functional currency. All financial information presented in millions of yen has been rounded to the nearest million yen.

(4) IFRSs or Interpretations Issued, but not yet Adopted

None of the new or amended IFRSs and interpretations that were issued but not yet adopted by the date of approval of the consolidated financial statements have a significant impact to the consolidated financial statements.

3. Significant Accounting Policies

Accounting policies described below are applied to all of the periods presented in the consolidated financial statements, unless otherwise specified.

(1) Basis of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include financial statements of the Group companies and equity interests in associates and joint ventures.

A. Subsidiaries

A subsidiary is an entity that is controlled by the Group. The Group controls an investee if the Group has power over the investee, exposure, or rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee, and the ability to use its power over the investee to affect the amount of the Group’s return. The acquisition date of a subsidiary is the date on which the Group obtained control of the subsidiary, and the subsidiary is included in the consolidation from the date of acquisition until the date on which the Group loses control.

In cases where the accounting policies applied by a subsidiary are different from those applied by the Group, adjustments are made to the subsidiary’s financial statements, if necessary. Comprehensive income for subsidiaries is attributed to owners of the parent and non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance. Changes in an equity interest in a subsidiary due to acquisition, sale, etc., of interests that do not result in loss of control of the subsidiary by the Group are accounted for as equity transactions.

If the Group loses control of a subsidiary, the Group derecognizes assets and liabilities of the former subsidiary and non-controlling interests in the subsidiary, and remeasures the residual interest retained in the former subsidiary at its fair value as of the date of the loss of control and recognizes any resulting gain or loss in profit or loss.

B. Associates and Joint Ventures

An associate is an entity of which the Group has significant influence over the financial and operating policy. In determining whether the Group has significant influence, various factors, such as holding of voting rights (the Group is presumed to have significant influence over an investee if the Group owns 20% or more, but 50% or less of the voting rights of the investee directly or indirectly) and existence of currently exercisable voting rights, and proportion of employees seconded from the Group to all the directors of the investee are taken into account comprehensively.

A joint venture is a contractual arrangement whereby two or more parties including the Group have joint control which requires unanimous consent of the parties in making important decisions on business activities. The business of a joint venture is undertaken by an entity independent of its investors and each investor has rights only to the net assets of the arrangement.

Investments in associates and joint ventures are initially recognized at cost and adjusted thereafter for the amount equivalent to the Group's share of net assets of the investees. Profit or loss and other comprehensive income recorded by the investees after the acquisition are included in the Group's profit or loss and other comprehensive income using the equity method and they are reflected in the investment value. For goodwill recognized in the acquisition of associates and joint ventures, the balance is included in the carrying amount of the investment. Dividends received from associates and joint ventures are deducted from the investment value.

In cases where the accounting policies of associates and joint ventures are different from the accounting policies adopted by the Group, adjustments are made to the financial statements of associates and joint ventures, if necessary, to ensure use of the Group's policies.

If the Group loses significant influence over an associate or joint control of a joint venture and ceases to apply the equity method, the Group recognizes a gain or loss from the sale of the equity interest in profit or loss, and remeasures the residual interest at fair value and recognizes the resulting valuation difference in profit or loss for the fiscal year in which the significant influence or the joint control is lost.

C. Transactions Eliminated in Consolidation

Inter-group company balances of receivables and payables and transactions, and any unrealized gains and losses arising from inter-group company transactions are eliminated in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements.

For unrealized gains and losses arising from transactions between the Group and associates accounted for by the equity method, the amount equivalent to the Group's equity interest in such gains and losses is eliminated.

(2) Business Combinations

Business combinations are accounted for by the acquisition method. Identifiable assets acquired, liabilities assumed, and any non-controlling interest in the acquiree are measured at fair value (except for assets and liabilities that are required to be measured on a basis other than fair value, which are measured at the value specified in IFRS 3, "Business Combinations") at the time of acquisition. Goodwill is recognized and measured as the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred, the acquisition-date fair value of the acquirer's previously held equity interest, and the amount of any non-controlling interest over the net of the acquisition amounts of the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed. However, if the aggregate of fair values of identifiable assets and liabilities assumed exceeds the sum of acquisition value, the value of pre-existing equity interest after the remeasurement, and the fair value of non-controlling interest in the acquiree, such an excess is immediately recognized in profit as the bargain purchase gain. For entity which is not considered to meet the definition of a business, when the equity interest increases from associate or joint venture to subsidiary, previously held equity interest is remeasured at its acquisition-date fair value and difference at the date of obtaining control between the carrying amount and the fair value are recognized in profit or loss.

If the initial accounting treatment for a business combination has not been completed by the last day of the period in which the business combination occurred, the business combination is accounted for using provisional amounts. Retrospective adjustments to provisional amounts are made during the measurement period, which is within one year from the acquisition date. Acquisition-related costs incurred by the acquirer to achieve the business combination are recognized as expenses.

For a business combination where all parties to the business combination are under control of the Group before and after the business combination (business combination under common control), carrying amounts of assets and liabilities of the acquiree are taken over by the acquirer.

(3) Foreign Currency Translation

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate at the date of transaction or its approximate rate. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the rates of exchange prevailing at the fiscal year end. Differences arising from the translation and settlement are recognized in profit or loss. However, exchange differences arising from the translation of financial assets measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (“FVTOCI”) and cash flow hedges are recognized in other comprehensive income. The assets and liabilities of foreign operations are translated into Japanese yen at the rates of exchange at the fiscal year end, while income and expenses of foreign operations are translated into Japanese yen at the exchange rate at the date of transaction or its approximate rate. The resulting exchange differences on translating foreign operations are recognized in other comprehensive income. In cases where foreign operations are disposed of, the cumulative amount of translation adjustments related to foreign operations is recognized in profit or loss in the period of disposition.

(4) Financial Instruments

A. Financial Assets Other Than Derivatives

(i) Initial Recognition and Measurement

For financial assets other than derivatives, trade receivables and other receivables are initially recognized on the day on which they arise. All other financial assets are initially recognized on the transaction date on which the Group becomes a party to the contract of the financial instrument.

Financial assets other than derivatives are classified into financial assets measured at amortized cost or financial assets measured at fair value. They are classified into financial assets measured at amortized cost if both of the following conditions are met; otherwise, they are classified into financial assets measured at fair value:

- The purpose of holding these assets is to collect contractual cash flows.
- The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

For financial assets measured at fair value, investments in equity instruments, such as ordinary shares in other entities, except for equity instruments held for the purpose of obtaining gains from short-term sales, are classified as FVTOCI financial assets in principle. Other financial assets measured at fair value are classified as financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss (“FVTPL financial assets”), of which the change in fair value after acquisition is recognized in profit or loss, in principle.

Such classifications are made upon initial recognition of each asset and applied consistently without any change.

Financial assets measured at amortized cost and FVTOCI financial assets are initially recognized at fair value (including transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets). FVTPL financial assets are initially recognized at fair value and transaction costs are recognized in profit or loss when they are incurred.

(ii) Subsequent Measurement

After initial recognition, financial assets are measured based on the classification as follows:

(a) Financial Assets Measured at Amortized Cost

Financial assets measured at amortized cost are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

(b) Other Financial Assets

Financial assets other than those measured at amortized cost are measured at fair value. Changes in the fair value of financial assets measured at fair value are recognized in profit or loss. However, changes in the fair value of FVTOCI financial assets are recognized in other comprehensive income. Dividends received on the financial assets are recognized in profit or loss for the year.

(iii) Derecognition

Financial assets are derecognized when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when the contractual right to receive cash flows from financial assets are transferred in transactions in which substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the asset are transferred to another entity. When an FVTOCI financial asset is sold, the difference between the latest carrying amount and the consideration received is recognized in other comprehensive income, and the balance of accumulated other comprehensive income that has been recognized until the sale of the financial asset is transferred to retained earnings.

B. Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash on hand, deposits, and short-term investments that are readily convertible into cash and that are exposed to insignificant risk of change in value and due within three months from the date of acquisition.

C. Impairment of Financial Assets

The Group recognizes a loss allowance for expected credit losses related to financial assets measured at amortized cost, lease receivables, financial guarantee contracts, and other financial assets.

The Group uses a simplified approach of IFRS 9, as the Group recognizes a loss allowance based on the lifetime expected credit losses for trade receivables that result from transactions within the scope of IFRS 15 and lease receivables.

For all other financial instruments, if payment is more than 30 days past due at the end of the period or if an event that causes credit concerns has occurred, unless there is reasonable proof to the contrary, the instrument is judged to have a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, and the lifetime expected credit losses is recognized. In contrast, if the credit risk of the financial instrument has not significantly increased since initial recognition, a loss allowance for the financial instrument is measured in the amount of the 12-month expected credit losses.

For expected credit losses, the Group aggregates receivables into groups based on credit risk characteristics, and then calculates the expected credit losses based on the coverage ratio, which is determined by reflecting current conditions and projections of future economic conditions in the historical rate of credit losses calculated for each group of receivables. If any of the following events occurs, the receivable is deemed to be in default, and the expected credit losses are measured for individual receivables as credit-impaired financial assets. If it is reasonably determined that all or part of a financial asset cannot be recovered, the carrying amount of the asset is directly written off.

- If payment on the receivable is more than 90 days past due
- If payment stops for reasons such as the counterparty's bills or checks being dishonored
- If the counterparty has filed for commencement of bankruptcy proceedings, civil rehabilitation proceedings, corporate reorganization proceedings, special liquidation proceedings, or other such proceedings

D. Financial Liabilities Other Than Derivatives

(i) Initial Recognition and Measurement

The Group initially recognizes debt securities issued by the Group on the date of issuance. All other financial liabilities are recognized on the transaction date on which the Group becomes a party to the contract of the financial instrument. Financial liabilities other than derivatives are classified as financial liabilities measured at amortized cost. Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost are initially measured at fair value with the transaction costs that are directly attributable to the issue of the financial liabilities deducted from the acquisition value.

(ii) Subsequent Measurement

After initial recognition, financial liabilities other than derivatives are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Amortization under the effective interest method and gains or losses on derecognition are recognized in profit or loss.

(iii) Derecognition

Financial liabilities are derecognized when the financial liability is extinguished, i.e. when the obligation that was specified in the contract is discharged due to performance of the obligation through repayment or is canceled or lapsed.

E. Presentation of Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities

Financial assets and financial liabilities are presented on a net basis in the consolidated statement of financial position when both of the following conditions are met; otherwise, financial assets and financial liabilities are presented on a gross basis:

- The Group has an unconditional and legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts.
- The Group intends either to settle on a net basis or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

F. Derivatives and Hedge Activities

Derivatives, including forward foreign exchange contracts, commodity futures, and interest rate swaps, are utilized to hedge currency risk, commodity price risk, and interest rate risk. These derivatives are recognized as assets or liabilities at fair value on the contract date on which the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions, and also remeasured at the fair value subsequently. Changes in the fair value of derivatives are accounted for as follows depending on the intended use of the derivatives and resulting hedge effectiveness:

- Derivatives that are hedging instruments to changes in fair value of recognized assets or liabilities, or of an unrecognized firm commitment, and are deemed highly effective as a hedge, and for which, at the inception of the hedge, written designation of the hedge relationship and the risk management objective and strategy for undertaking the hedge are established are designated as fair value hedges. Changes in fair value of such derivatives are recognized in profit or loss, together with changes in the fair value of hedged items.
- Derivatives that are hedging instruments to changes in future cash flows generated in association with the forecasted transactions or recognized assets or liabilities and are deemed highly effective as a hedge and for which, at the inception of the hedge, written designation of the hedge relationship and the risk management objective and strategy for undertaking the hedge are established are designated as cash flow hedges. Changes in fair value of such derivatives are recognized in other comprehensive income. This accounting treatment is continued until changes in future cash flows generated in association with the unrecognized forecasted transactions or already recognized assets or liabilities that are designated as hedged items are realized. The ineffective portion of the hedge is recognized in profit or loss.

- Changes in fair value of derivatives other than the above are recognized in profit or loss.

In applying the above fair value hedges and cash flow hedges, the Group assesses whether the hedge is expected to be effective at the inception of the hedge and after the application of the hedge.

Hedge accounting is ceased when the hedge is no longer effective, in which case changes in fair value of the derivative are recognized in profit or loss.

(5) Inventories

Inventories held for purposes other than trading are measured at the lower of cost or net realizable value, and the costs are determined mainly using the specific identification method or the monthly moving-average method. For inventories with sales contracts, net realizable value is the sale value under the sales contract, less the estimated costs necessary to make the sale. For inventories without sales contracts, net realizable value is the estimated selling price, less the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

Inventories held for trading purposes are measured at fair value, less costs to sell, with changes in the fair value recognized in profit or loss for the period in which the change occurred.

(6) Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are measured using the cost model and are stated at cost, less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. The costs of an item of property, plant and equipment comprise the following amounts, and depreciation begins when the asset is available for use.

- Purchase price
- Any costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating
- Estimated costs of dismantling and removing the item and restoring the site on which it is located
- Interest expense required up to the operation on borrowings for acquisition, construction, and manufacturing of property, plant and equipment that meet the criteria for capitalization

If different material components are identifiable in an item of property, plant and equipment, each component is accounted for as a separate item of property, plant and equipment.

Assets are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful lives of major assets are as follows:

- Buildings and structures: 2 to 50 years
- Machinery and vehicles: 2 to 22 years
- Vessels: 5 to 14 years

The estimated useful lives and depreciation method are reviewed at each fiscal year end, and if there are any changes made to the estimated useful lives and depreciation method, such changes are applied prospectively as changes in accounting estimates.

(7) Goodwill and Intangible Assets

A. Goodwill

Goodwill arising from the acquisition of subsidiaries is recognized in assets at the amount of the “aggregate of fair values of consideration transferred, non-controlling interests, and shareholders’ interests previously held by the acquirer in the acquiree” exceeding the “net amount of identifiable acquired assets and assumed liabilities” on the acquisition date. Goodwill is not amortized, but initially recognized at cost in assets, and is tested for impairment each fiscal year. Goodwill is carried at cost, less any accumulated impairment losses in the consolidated statement of financial position.

Goodwill is allocated to cash-generating units (minimum units or groups of units) that are expected to contribute to obtaining cash flows considering the synergies of the business combination. Cash-generating units to which goodwill was allocated are tested for impairment at the end of each fiscal year, or at any time when there is any indication of impairment.

When a subsidiary is disposed of, the amount of related goodwill is included in profit or loss for the disposal.

B. Intangible Assets

Intangible assets are measured using the cost model and are stated at cost, less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses. Intangible assets acquired separately are measured at cost at the initial recognition, and the costs of intangible assets acquired through business combinations are recognized at fair value at the date of acquisition. All expenditures on internally generated intangible assets are recognized as an expense in the fiscal year in which they are incurred, except for development expenses that satisfy the capitalization criteria.

The period in which intangible assets, directly or indirectly, contribute to their estimated future cash flows is considered as the useful life. If the useful life of an intangible asset is reasonably projected, the intangible asset is amortized using the straight-line method over the estimated useful life. Intangible assets are tested for impairment whenever there is any indication of impairment. The estimated useful lives and amortization method of intangible assets are reviewed at each fiscal year end, and if there are any changes made to the estimated useful lives and amortization method, such changes are applied prospectively as changes in accounting estimates.

The estimated useful lives of major intangible assets are as follows:

- Relationships with customers: 5 to 42 years
- Brand and relationships with suppliers: 40 years
- Software: 5 years

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and intangible assets that are not yet ready to use are not amortized, but they are tested for impairment individually or by cash-generating unit annually or whenever there is any indication of impairment.

(8) Leases

In accordance with IFRS 16, "Leases," the Group determines whether a contract is, or contains, a lease based on examination of the economic nature of the transaction, regardless of whether the legal form of the contract is that of a lease contract, and accounts for them as follows:

A. Leases as Lessee

If a contract is or contains a lease, right-of-use assets and lease liabilities are recognized at the commencement date of the lease.

Lease liabilities are measured at the present value of unpaid lease payments at the commencement date of the lease, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or the lessee's incremental borrowing rate.

Lease payments are allocated to finance costs and repayments of lease liabilities based on the effective interest method, with finance costs presented in "Interest expense" in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income.

The cost model is applied to measure right-of-use assets, and the value, measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, is presented in the consolidated statement of financial position by including it under "Property, plant and equipment" and "Investment property." Cost is measured at the acquisition cost adjusted for the initial direct costs incurred by the lessee, including lease payments made before the commencement date of the lease and the cost of restoration obligation and other obligations required in the lease contract, in addition to the amount initially measured for the lease liability.

Right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis from the commencement date of the lease to the end of the asset's useful life or the end of the lease term, whichever is earlier.

For short-term leases with a lease term of 12 months or less and leases of low-value assets, lease payments are recognized in net profit on either a straight-line basis over the lease term or another systematic basis, and right-of-use assets and lease liabilities are not recognized.

B. Leases as Lessor

Leases that transfer substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the underlying asset are classified as finance leases, and any leases other than finance leases are classified as operating leases.

For finance leases, net investments in the leases are recognized as lease receivables, total lease payments are classified into amounts equivalent to the principal and interest portions of lease receivables, and the amount allocated to the interest portion of lease payments receivable is calculated using the effective interest method. The interest portion of lease payments is presented in either "Revenue" or "Interest income" in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, depending on the primary purpose of the finance lease.

Under operating leases, lease payments income is recognized in net profit on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

(9) Investment Property

Investment property is land and/or buildings, among others, held to earn rentals or for capital appreciation due to an increase in real estate prices or both.

Investment property is measured using the cost model, in the same manner as property, plant and equipment, and is stated at cost, less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses.

Except for assets that are not subject to depreciation, such as land, investment property is depreciated using the straight-line method over its estimated useful life, which is between 2 and 50 years. The estimated useful lives and depreciation method are reviewed at each fiscal year end, and if there are any changes made to the estimated useful lives and depreciation method, among others, such changes are applied prospectively as changes in accounting estimates.

(10) Impairment of Non-Financial Assets

Each fiscal year, the Group assesses whether there is any indication that a non-financial asset has been impaired. If there is any indication that an asset has been impaired, the asset is tested for impairment. Goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are tested for impairment at least annually, at the same time each year, regardless of whether there is any indication of impairment. When a cash-generating unit, including goodwill, is tested for impairment, an impairment test is performed first for assets other than goodwill, and then for goodwill after necessary impairment losses are recognized for the assets other than goodwill.

An impairment test is performed by cash-generating unit. If cash flows from an asset are identifiable largely independently of other assets, the asset is considered its own cash-generating unit. If an asset from which cash flows are not identifiable largely independently of other assets, a cash-generating unit is the smallest identifiable group of assets that largely independently generates cash flows.

Goodwill is allocated to cash-generating units (minimum units or groups of units) that are expected to contribute to obtaining cash flows considering the synergies of the business combination.

An impairment test is performed by estimating the recoverable amount of the asset by cash-generating unit and comparing the estimated recoverable amount with the carrying amount of the cash-generating unit. The recoverable amount is calculated at the higher of the fair value of the cash-generating unit, less costs of disposal, or the value in use. If the carrying amount of the cash-generating unit exceeds the recoverable amount, an impairment loss is recognized for the asset and the carrying amount is written down to the recoverable amount. In the assessment of value in use, estimated future cash flows are discounted to the present value using a pre-tax discount rate reflecting the current market valuation on the time value of money, risks inherent in the asset, and other factors. To determine the fair value, less costs of disposal, the Group uses an appropriate valuation model supported by available indicators of fair value.

Recognized impairment losses are allocated so that the carrying amount of each asset in the cash-generating unit is reduced proportionally. Goodwill is first allocated so that the carrying amount of goodwill allocated to the cash-generating unit is reduced and then the carrying amount of each asset other than goodwill in the cash-generating unit is reduced proportionally. Whether there is any indication that an impairment loss recognized in prior years may have decreased or may no longer exist is assessed. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset or cash-generating unit is estimated. If the recoverable amount exceeds the carrying amount of the asset or cash-generating unit, an impairment loss is reversed up to the lower of the calculated recoverable amount or the carrying amount that would have been determined (net of depreciation) if no impairment loss had been recognized for the asset in prior years. However, an impairment loss recognized for goodwill is not reversed.

Goodwill on the acquisition of investments accounted for by the equity method is included in the part of the carrying amount of the investments with other components, and investments in the companies accounted for by the equity method may be impaired as a single asset.

(11) Non-Current Assets Held for Sale

When the carrying amount of a non-current asset (or disposal group) is expected to be recovered principally through a sale transaction rather than through continuing use, the asset (or disposal group) is classified as an asset held for sale. The criteria to be classified as an asset held for sale are only met if the sale of the asset is highly probable and the asset is available for immediate sale in its present condition. Because the sale of the asset will be completed within one year from the day of classification, the asset is presented in current assets.

Assets held for sale are measured at the lower of carrying amount or fair value, less costs of disposal. Property, plant and equipment and intangible assets classified as assets held for sale are not depreciated or amortized.

(12) Employee Benefits

A. Defined Benefit Retirement Plans

For defined benefit retirement plans, the net amount of the present value of defined benefit obligations and the fair value of plan assets is recognized as liabilities or assets. The present value of defined benefit obligations and related service costs are calculated using the projected unit credit method, in principle. The discount rate used to calculate the present value of defined benefit obligations is determined by reference to market yield at the end of the fiscal year on high-rating corporate bonds that are consistent with the estimated periods of the retirement benefit obligations, in principle.

Changes in the present value of defined benefit obligations for employees' service in prior periods arising due to an amendment to the plan are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which the amendment was made.

The Group recognizes all actuarial gains and losses arising from the Group's defined benefit retirement plans in other comprehensive income ("defined benefit remeasurement") and immediately reclassifies these gains and losses to retained earnings.

B. Defined Contribution Retirement Plans

Contributions to be made for employees' service corresponding to each fiscal period are recognized as expenses for the fiscal year.

C. Multi-Employer Plans

Some subsidiaries have participated in multi-employer plans. Multi-employer plans are classified into defined benefit retirement plans and defined contribution retirement plans in accordance with terms of each plan and the accounting treatment for each plan type is applied. However, for multi-employer plans classified as defined benefit retirement plans, the accounting treatment for defined contribution retirement plans is applied to them when information sufficient to account for the plans as defined benefit retirement plans is not available.

D. Short-Term Employee Benefits

The undiscounted amount of short-term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the service rendered by employees during the fiscal period is recognized in profit or loss. For bonuses, the estimated amount of payments is recognized as a liability when the Group has legal or constructive obligations to make such payments and reliable estimates of the obligations can be made.

(13) Provisions

A provision is recognized when there is a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events, when it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will result from the settlement of the obligation, and when a reliable estimate of the obligation can be made. The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation (future cash flows), taking into account risks and uncertainty related to the obligation at the end of the fiscal year. When the time value of money for the provisions is material, the amount of the provisions is measured at the present value calculated by discounting estimated future cash flows at a pre-tax discount rate, reflecting risks inherent in the liabilities. Unwinding of the discount reflecting the passage of time is recognized as a financial cost.

Major provisions are provisions for asset retirement obligations, which are recognized and measured by estimating asset retirement obligations individually and specifically taking into account the status of each property based on expected usable years, etc., determined in light of past records of restoration and useful lives of inside fixtures in offices and other places, in preparation for obligations for restoration of rental offices, buildings and stores and removal of harmful materials related to non-current assets. An outflow of economic benefits in the future is expected to be principally in a period after one year from the end of each fiscal year.

(14) Equity

A. Common Stock and Capital Surplus

Equity instruments issued by the Company are recorded in equity and capital surplus. Transaction costs directly attributable to the issuance are deducted from capital surplus.

B. Treasury Stock

When treasury stock is acquired, the treasury stock is recognized at cost and presented as a deduction from equity. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition are deducted from equity.

When treasury stock is sold, consideration received is recognized as an increase in equity.

(15) Revenue

The Group has recognized revenue based on the following five-step approach.

Step 1: Identify the contract(s) with a customer

Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract

Step 3: Determine the transaction price

Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract

Step 5: Recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation

The Group is engaged in the sale of LPG, gasoline, kerosene, diesel oil, fuel oil, asphalt, electricity, automobiles, and other goods. For the sale of these products, the Group considers that a performance obligation is satisfied when the customer is deemed to obtain control of the product in light of contractual terms and conditions. Specifically, the Group recognizes revenue on the date when the goods are shipped or delivered to the customer or when the customer performs an inspection of the delivered goods. In addition, revenue is recognized at the amount of consideration promised in the contract with the customer less discounts, rebates, returned goods, etc. As the amount of consideration for performance obligations is mainly received within one year of satisfaction of performance obligations, it is not adjusted for the effects of significant financing components.

When identifying the performance obligations, and determining whether the Group is involved in transactions as a party to the transaction, or whether the Group is involved as an agent, the Group considers factors such as whether or not the Group has the primary responsibility for providing the product or service to the customer, whether or not the Group bears the inventory risk, and whether or not the Group has discretion in establishing selling price. For a transaction in which the Group is involved as a party to the transaction, the Group presents revenue at the gross amount of consideration received from the customer. For a transaction in which the Group is involved as an agent, the Group presents revenue at a net amount calculated by deducting the cost of sales from the gross amount of consideration received from the customer.

(16) Government Grants

Proceeds from government grants are recognized at fair value when there is reasonable assurance that the conditions attached to them will be complied with, and that the grant will be received. Grants for expenses incurred are recorded as revenue in the fiscal year in which the expenses are incurred. For grants for acquisition of assets, the amount is deducted from the cost of the assets.

(17) Financial Income and Costs

Financial income consists of interest income, dividends received, gains on changes in fair value and sale of FVTPL financial assets, and gains on changes in fair value of derivatives. Interest income is recognized using the effective interest method when it arises. Dividends received are recognized when the Group's right to receive the payment is established.

Financial costs consist of interest expense, losses on changes in fair value and sale of FVTPL financial assets, impairment losses of financial assets measured at amortized cost other than trade receivables, and losses on changes in fair value of derivatives. Interest expense is recognized using the effective interest method when incurred.

(18) Income Taxes

Income taxes, which comprise current taxes and deferred taxes, are recognized in profit or loss, except for taxes arising from items that are recorded directly in equity or accumulated other comprehensive income and taxes arising from the initial recognition of business combinations.

Current taxes are measured at the amount that is expected to be paid to, or refunded from, the taxation authorities. In calculating the amount of taxes, the Group applies tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the fiscal year in countries where the Group operates business activities and has taxable profit or tax loss.

Deferred taxes are calculated based on the temporary differences between the tax basis of an asset or liability and its carrying amount at the fiscal year end. Deferred tax assets are recognized for deductible temporary differences, carryforward of unused tax credits, and unused tax losses to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which they can be utilized. Deferred tax liabilities are, in principle, recognized for taxable temporary differences.

The deferred tax assets or liabilities are not recognized for the following temporary differences:

- Temporary differences from the initial recognition of goodwill
- Temporary differences from the initial recognition of assets and liabilities arising from transactions (excluding business combination transactions) that affect neither accounting profit nor taxable profit

Deferred tax liabilities for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates, and joint ventures are not recognized if the Group is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets for deductible temporary differences arising from investments in subsidiaries and associates are recognized only to the extent it is probable that the temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will be available against which temporary differences can be used.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period in which the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on a tax rate (and tax laws) that has been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the fiscal year.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the taxes are levied by the same taxation authority on the same taxable entity.

(19) Earnings per Share

Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing profit or loss attributable to Itochu Enex's shareholders by the weighted-average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the period.

4. Use of Estimates and Judgments

In the preparation of the consolidated financial statements, management uses accounting estimates and judgments. Accounting estimates and judgments made by the management have an impact on the amounts of assets and liabilities as of the date of reporting of the consolidated financial statement and disclosure of contingent liabilities, and the amounts reported as revenue and expenses. Major items in which the carrying amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, and expenses are affected by judgments made in application of the accounting policies are as follows:

- Indication of impairment for property, plant and equipment, goodwill, intangible assets, etc. (refer to Note 3, "Significant Accounting Policies (10) Impairment of Non-Financial Assets")
- Recognition and presentation of revenue (refer to Note 3, "Significant Accounting Policies (15) Revenue")

Assumptions used in accounting estimates may differ from actual figures because these assumptions are set based on past experience and appropriately collected available information. Estimates and assumptions are reviewed by management on an ongoing basis. Effects of these reviews of estimates and assumptions are recognized in the period in which the estimates and assumptions are reviewed and subsequent periods.

Information on uncertainty of assumptions and estimates that have a risk of resulting in significant adjustments in the next fiscal year is as follows:

- Impairment of Non-Financial Assets

Impairment tests of non-financial assets are performed based on many assumptions and estimates, such as assumptions for measurement of fair value, less costs of disposal, in the calculation of the recoverable amount or estimated future cash flows of cash-generating units and discount rate as bases for calculation of value in use. There is a risk that changes in uncertain future economic conditions may result in significant adjustments to the amount of impairment losses.

The content and amount related to impairment of non-financial assets are discussed in Note 31, "Impairment Loss."

Based on information available when preparing the consolidated financial statements, the Group expects the impact of COVID-19 will not be material. The Group's estimates and assumptions may change depending on factors including the status of both the pandemic and the return to normal conditions.

- Estimates of Income Taxes

In calculation of income taxes, estimates and judgments are required for various factors, including interpretation of tax regulations and history of past tax examinations. Therefore, the amount recorded as income taxes may differ from the actual amount of tax payment.

Deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which deductible temporary differences can be used. As the timing when taxable profit is earned and the amount thereof may be affected by changes in uncertain future economic conditions, there is a risk that the amount recognized in subsequent fiscal years may change significantly if the actual timing and amounts differ from the estimates.

The content and amount related to income taxes are discussed in Note 17, "Deferred Taxes and Income Taxes."

Based on information available when preparing the consolidated financial statements, the Group expects the impact of COVID-19 will not be material. The Group's estimates and assumptions may change depending on factors including the status of both the pandemic and the return to normal conditions.

- Measurement of Defined Benefit Obligations in Defined Benefit Retirement Plans

Defined benefit obligations are computed based on actuarial calculations, and assumptions used in those actuarial calculations include estimates of discount rates, employee turnover, mortality rates, salary increase rates, etc. These assumptions are determined with all available information, such as market trends of interest rate fluctuations judged comprehensively. These assumptions may be affected by economic conditions and revisions of laws and regulations, and there is a risk that such effects may cause significant changes in the measurement of defined benefit obligations in subsequent fiscal years.

Details on measurement of defined benefit obligations in defined benefit retirement plans and the amounts are discussed in Note 23, "Employee Benefits."

- Measurement of Provisions

The Group records asset retirement obligations as a provision in the consolidated statement of financial position. The amount recorded is the present value calculated by discounting the best estimate of expenditures required to settle the obligations, which takes into account risks and uncertainty as of the end of the fiscal year, at a pre-tax discount rate, reflecting risks inherent in the liabilities.

Although the amount of expenditures required to settle the obligations is calculated comprehensively taking into account future possible outcomes, this amount may be affected by unpredictable events or changes in situation. If the actual amount of payment differs from the estimate, or if there is any significant change in the discount rate for discounting the estimated expenditure due to changes in economic conditions and other factors, the amount recognized in subsequent fiscal years may be affected significantly. The amount of recognized asset retirement obligations is discussed in Note 22, "Provisions."

5. Segment Information

(1) Outline of Reportable Segments

The reportable segments of the Group are components of the Group for which separate financial information is available. These segments are periodically evaluated by the Board of Directors in deciding how to allocate management resources and in assessing performance.

The Group is organized into business divisions, consolidating related businesses. Each business division plans strategies for each category of target customers and markets and develops business activities. The Group has four reportable segments that correspond to the business divisions, namely the "Home-Life Division," "Car-Life Division," "Industrial Business Division," and "Power & Utility Division."

The Home-Life Division is engaged in sales and services involving LP gas, kerosene, town gas, electricity, household equipment, smart energy equipment, remodeling and residential lithium-ion electricity storage systems.

The Car-Life Division is engaged in sales and services involving gasoline, kerosene, diesel oil, electricity, automobiles, and lifestyle and automotive products.

The Industrial Business Division is engaged in sales and services involving gasoline, kerosene, diesel oil, fuel oil, LP gas, industrial gas, AdBlue®, GTL fuel, renewable fuel, corporate fleet refueling cards, asphalt, marine fuel, pressure resistance inspection for gas containers, and welding materials, as well as recycling of incinerated ash, slop recovery and recycling business, import/export of petroleum products, and terminal tank rental.

The Power & Utility Division is engaged in the electricity generation (hydro, solar power, coal-fired and natural gas-fired), steam, providing district heating services, comprehensive energy services, electricity/heat supply services, electric power supply/demand management services, asset management business, and car rental business.

The Company reviewed the management classification in conjunction with an absorption-type merger of KOKURA ENTERPRISE ENERGY CO., LTD. and ENEX PETROLEUM SALES NISHI-NIHON CO., LTD., which were subsidiaries of the Company, by ENEX FLEET CO., LTD., also a subsidiary of the Company in the first quarter of the current fiscal year. The Company also transferred ITOCHU INDUSTRIAL GAS Co., Ltd., which is a subsidiary of the Company, to the Industrial Business Division in the third quarter of the current fiscal year. In conjunction with these changes, the Company changed the method to include the business of KOKURA ENTERPRISE ENERGY CO., LTD., which was previously included in the Industrial Business Division, in the Car-Life Division, and to include the business of ITOCHU INDUSTRIAL GAS Co., Ltd., which was previously included in the Home-Life Division, in the Industrial Business Division.

Due to the change in segments, segment information for the previous fiscal year has been reclassified based on the classification of reportable segments after the change.

(2) Information on Reportable Segments

(3) Products and Services Information

This information is omitted because the classification of products and services is the same as the classification of reportable segments.

(4) Geographic Information

This information is omitted because revenue from external customers in Japan accounts for a large percentage of the revenue recorded in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2022 and 2023.

(5) Major Customers Information

This information is omitted because there is no major external customer from which revenue accounts for 10% or more of the revenue recorded in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2022 and 2023.

6. Business Combinations

For the fiscal year ended March 31, 2022

Impairment Test for Goodwill

In performing an impairment test for goodwill, the Group allocates goodwill to the LPG sales business and others and calculates the recoverable amount of the LPG sales business, which is a cash-generating unit, based on value in use.

The Group calculates value in use by discounting estimated future cash flows based on the latest business plan approved by the Board of Directors to the present value.

The Group uses a pre-tax discount rate reflecting the current market valuation of the time value of money, risks inherent in the asset, and other factors as the discount rate (as of March 31, 2022: 6.5%, and March 31, 2023: 6.5%).

The Group considers that significant impairment is unlikely to arise in the cash-generating unit even if the discount rate used in the above impairment test changes within a reasonably predictable range.

An outflow of economic benefits in the future is expected principally in a period after one year from the end of each fiscal year, but the timing may be affected by a future business plan and other factors.

23. Employee Benefits

(1) Post-Employment Benefits

A. Outline of Post-Employment Benefit Plans Adopted

The Company and some subsidiaries have defined benefit retirement plans, lump-sum retirement benefits, and defined contribution retirement pension plans, which cover almost all of their employees. The amount of pension benefits provided under defined benefit retirement plans is set based on service years of eligible employees. Extra retirement payments may be made upon an employee's normal retirement or termination before the prescribed retirement date.

Under defined contribution retirement plans, the responsibility of the Company and some subsidiaries is limited to making contributions at the amount specified in the rules on retirement allowance that has been established for each company.

Nissan Osaka Sales Co., Ltd., a subsidiary, has participated in "Zenkoku Nissan Jidosha Hambai Kigyo Pension Fund," which is a multi-employer plan. This plan differs from a single employer plan in the following respects:

- Assets contributed by the employer to the multi-employer plan may be used for benefits to employees of the other member employers. The amount of contributions is calculated by multiplying standard pay of plan members by a fixed rate.
- If some employers suspend contributions, other member employers may be required to make additional contributions for unfunded liabilities.
- If the multi-employer plan is wound up or a member employer withdraws from the multi-employer plan, the member employer may be required to make contributions for unfunded liabilities as special contributions in winding up or withdrawal contributions.

(Millions of yen)

	As of March 31, 2022
	Level 1 (Active market)	Level 2 (No active market)	Total

Stock trusts	–	2,907	2,907
Bond trusts	–	6,268	6,268

Bond trusts	–	5,577	5,577
General accounts	–	–	–
Other	–	1,934	1,934
Total	–	9,401	9,401

In managing plan assets, the Group aims to secure return on assets necessary to ensure payment of future pension benefits in the long term only with acceptable risks. To this end, the Group formulates the optimal portfolio in consideration of past performance in addition to projection of return on assets subject to investment, and manages investment performance based on this portfolio.

For assets categorized into Level 1 (there is an active market), fair value is estimated based on quoted prices in active markets. For assets categorized into Level 2 (there is no active market), which mainly consist of investment trusts in domestic and foreign stocks and bonds, fair value is estimated using valuations provided by the plan trustee. Additionally, Other includes funds of hedge funds and real estate investment trusts.

Information on maturity analysis of defined benefit obligations is as follows:

Defined benefit obligations are calculated by discounting the amount of benefits that are deemed to have been incurred to date, over the remaining service period up to the time of payment. Because the timing of payment affects the amounts of defined benefit obligations and service cost, International Accounting Standard (“IAS”) 19, “Employee Benefits” requires an entity to disclose information on the timing of incurrence of benefits. The Group believes that disclosure of weighted duration of defined benefit obligations that represents the average period taking into account benefit amount, timing, and discount is useful information to meet this requirement. The Company's weighted duration of defined benefit obligations was 13 years in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2022, and 13 years in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2023.

Discount rate	0.6–0.7%	1.0–1.1%

In the assumption of actuarial calculation described above, the calculation for defined benefit retirement plans is susceptible to the effects of the assumption of the discount rate. If the discount rate had changed by 0.25% as of March 31, 2023, the effect on defined benefit obligations would be ¥348 million, which was calculated supposing that only the discount rate changes without any change in actuarial assumptions other than the discount rate.

Since this calculation is an estimation based on the assumptions, the actual calculation may be affected by changes in other variables.

C. Defined Contribution Plans

Expenses related to contributions required for defined contribution pension plans were ¥704 million and ¥681 million for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2022 and 2023, respectively.

D. Extra Retirement Payments

24. Common Stock, Capital Surplus, and Retained Earnings

(1) Common Stock

(Note) The balance of the number of shares of treasury stock at the end of the fiscal years ended March 31, 2022 and 2023 includes 106,001 shares and 130,145 shares, respectively, of the Company owned by the stock distribution trust for directors.

(2) Capital Surplus and Retained Earnings

The Companies Act of Japan provides that upon payment of dividends of surplus, an amount equal to 10% of the reserves, which decrease due to the dividends paid, must be appropriated as capital reserve (in case of dividends of capital surplus) or as retained earnings reserve (in case of dividends of retained earnings) until the total aggregate amount of capital reserve and retained earnings reserve equals 25% of the common stock.

The Companies Act imposes a certain restriction on the amount available for distribution in association with dividends of surplus or acquisition of treasury stock. The amount available for distribution is determined based on retained earnings, among others, in the Company's separate financial statements calculated in accordance with Japanese Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. The Company's amount available for distribution was ¥71,618 million as of March 31, 2023 (however, this amount available for distribution may change due to subsequent acquisition of treasury stock and other factors).

Under the Companies Act, in addition to year-end dividends, dividends of surplus can be paid at any time during the fiscal year by resolution of the General Meeting of Shareholders. The Companies Act provides that companies meeting certain requirements (setup of Audit & Supervisory Board of corporate auditors and appointment of an accounting auditor in addition to the board of directors, and the term of office for directors limited to one year) may determine dividends of surplus (excluding dividends in kind) by resolution of the board of directors if the articles of incorporation specify so. The Companies Act also provides that companies with a board of directors may pay dividends of surplus (only cash dividends) by resolution of the board of directors only once during a business year, if the articles of incorporation specify so.

Moreover, companies are allowed to dispose of treasury stock by resolution of the board of directors, or acquire treasury stock if the articles of incorporation specify so. However, acquisition of treasury stock is limited to the extent the above amount is available for distribution.

27. Financial Instruments

(1) Capital Management

The Group conducts capital management to continue sustainable growth and maximize corporate value.

To achieve sustainable growth, the Group recognizes that it is essential to secure sufficient financing capacity to make agile investment in businesses when an opportunity for such investments for business growth (such as acquisition of external resources) arises in the future. Therefore, the Group aims to ensure financial health and flexibility for future investment in businesses and maintain the capital structure with balanced return and investment.

There is no significant capital restriction that applies to the Company (excluding general provisions of the Companies Act and other laws and regulations).

(2) Financial Risk Management Policy

In the course of management activities, the Group is exposed to financial risks (such as credit risks, liquidity risks, currency risks, interest rate risks, and market price risks) and performs risk management in accordance with certain policies to avoid or reduce these risks.

In accordance with the Group's policy, its fund management is limited to short-term deposits, etc., and the Group depends on bank loans, among others, for raising funds. The Group utilizes derivatives for the purpose of hedging risks of changes in market conditions, and interest rate and exchange fluctuations, but does not enter into such transactions for speculative purposes.

(3) Credit Risk Management

The Group grants credit to many customers in various trading transactions and bears credit risks.

In line with the rules on credit management, the Group manages due dates and balances of trade receivables and loans by business partner, and pursues early identification or reduction of uncollectible receivables due to deteriorated financial conditions. The Group is not overly exposed to credit risks by concentration on a specific counterparty.

In utilizing derivatives, the Group believes there to be few credit risks since the Group has transactions only with exchange members or banks with good credit standing.

When collateral held and other credit enhancements are not taken into account, the Group's maximum exposure to credit risks is the carrying amount after impairment of financial assets presented in the consolidated financial statements.

Collateral held as security is mainly real estate and business security deposits.

The carrying amounts of financial assets for which loss allowances are recognized are as follows:

(Millions of yen)

	Measured at an amount equivalent to the 12-month expected credit losses	Measured at an amount equivalent to the lifetime expected credit losses			Total

(4) Liquidity Risk Management

The Group manages liquidity risks by formulating a funding plan based on the annual business plan, and by conducting periodic assessment and collection of information on situations of liquidity in hand and interest-bearing debts and timely monitoring of cash flows. #### (5) Market Risk Management

The Group is exposed to market risks arising from fluctuations in foreign exchange rates, interest rates, commodity markets, and equity prices. As per its policy, the Group minimizes risks arising from fluctuations in foreign exchange rates, interest rates, and other factors by building a management structure through establishment of balance limits, using various derivatives and others.

For execution and management of derivative transactions, in accordance with the internal rules that provide transaction authority, limit amounts, etc., departments engaged in such transactions rigorously manage and report on the transactions conducted according to their authority. In addition, a system of effective internal checking has been developed by setting up a transaction control department.

Market risks that the Group assumes are shown below:

- Currency risks
- Interest rate risks
- Commodity price risks
- Price risks of equity instruments

A. Currency Risk Management

Because the Group is engaged in import and export transactions, which are exposed to exchange fluctuation risks for transactions denominated in foreign currencies, the Group strives to reduce such exchange fluctuation risks through hedging transactions utilizing derivatives, including forward foreign exchange contracts.

The Group's exposure to currency risks (net amount) as of March 31, 2022 and 2023 is shown below:

	As of March 31, 2022	As of March 31, 2023
Short-term foreign exchange balance (Millions of yen)	883	298
[Thousands of U.S. dollars]	[7,212]	[2,231]
Long-term foreign exchange balance (Millions of yen)	–	–
[Thousands of U.S. dollars]	[–]	[–]

- (Notes)
1. The foreign exchange balance is the amount in foreign currencies for which exchange fluctuation risks are not hedged with forward foreign exchange contracts, etc., in terms of receivables and payables in foreign currencies in import and export transactions and firm commitments in foreign currencies. The foreign exchange balance that is due for settlement within one year is classified as short-term foreign exchange balance, while the foreign exchange balance that is due for settlement due after one year is classified as long-term foreign exchange balance, if any.
  2. Positive figures represent a receivable position, while negative figures (figures in parentheses), if any, represent a payable position.

Foreign Currency Sensitivity Analysis

Foreign currency sensitivity analysis shows the effect on profit before tax in the Group's consolidated statement of comprehensive income of 1% appreciation of the Japanese yen to the Company's short-term and long-term foreign exchange balances as of the end of each fiscal year. However, this analysis assumes that other variable factors (such as balances and interest rates) remain constant.

B. Interest Rate Risk Management

The Group is exposed to interest rate fluctuation risks in raising and managing funds accompanying investment activities and operating transactions. In addition, fixed-rate debt obligations are exposed to risks of fluctuations in fair value due to fluctuations in interest rates. The Group works to quantify interest rate risks to appropriately control volatility in profit or loss due to interest rate fluctuations. Specifically, the Group strives to reduce interest rate risks by conducting hedging transactions through interest rate swaps.

Interest Rate Sensitivity Analysis

The table below shows the effect on the Group's profit before tax of gains or losses arising from instruments affected by interest rate fluctuations, if the interest rate increases 1% in the fiscal years ended March 31, 2022 and 2023. This analysis is calculated by multiplying the net balance of floating-rate financial instruments held by the Group as of March 31, 2022 and 2023, by 1% with no future changes in the balances, effects of foreign exchange fluctuations, effect of diversified timing of rollover, and repricing of variable-rate borrowings taken into account. The analysis assumes that all other variables remain constant.

In calculation of sensitivity, interest-bearing debts with a variable interest condition, interest-bearing debts that have a fixed interest condition but actually have a variable interest condition through interest rate swaps, and cash and cash equivalents are deemed as instruments affected by interest rate fluctuations.

C. Commodity Price Risk Management

The Group principally deals with petroleum products and is exposed to commodity price risks arising from fluctuations in crude oil prices, quoted prices of petroleum products, and other prices. The Group strives to reduce commodity price risks using derivatives (such as commodity futures contracts and commodity swaps) as hedging instruments to commodity price risks caused by price fluctuation.

Commodity Price Sensitivity Analysis

The table below shows the Group's sensitivity analysis to fluctuations of quoted prices of crude oil and petroleum products.

The sensitivity analysis presents the effects on profit before tax in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income of a 1% increase in crude oil prices. This analysis assumes that other variable factors remain constant.

(Millions of yen)

D. Management of Price Risks of Equity Instruments

The Group holds shares of third parties with which it has business relationships for the purpose of smoothly implementing its business strategy, and is exposed to risks of fluctuations in prices of equity instruments. The Group periodically assesses current market prices and financial conditions of issuers and continuously reviews its holding.

The Group has no equity instruments held for short-term trading purposes and does not actively trade these investments.

Sensitivity Analysis of Equity Instruments to Price Risks

The Group's sensitivity analysis of risks of fluctuations in prices of equity instruments is as follows. This sensitivity shows the effects on other comprehensive income (before tax effects) in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income of a 10% decrease in prices of listed stocks as of the end of each fiscal year. The sensitivity assumes that other variable factors remain constant.

(6) Fair Value of Financial Instruments

A. Method of Fair Value Measurement

Fair values of major financial assets and financial liabilities are determined as follows. In measurement of fair value of financial instruments, market prices are used when available. For financial instruments of which market prices are unavailable, the fair value is measured by discounting future cash flows or by other appropriate valuation methods.

Cash and cash equivalents

The carrying amount approximates fair value because the remaining period to maturity is short.

Trade receivables, trade payables, and other current financial assets (other receivables and deposits paid)

The carrying amount approximates fair value because it is settled in a short time.

Other current financial assets (securities) and other investments

The fair value of marketable securities is based on quoted prices on the stock exchange. The fair value of non-marketable securities is principally measured by the net asset approach, whereby the fair value is calculated by referring to the fair values of assets and liabilities held by the investee company.

Non-current financial assets other than investments (non-current loans receivable) and other current financial assets (current portion of non-current loans receivable)

The fair value of non-current loans receivable is measured by discounting future cash flows using interest rates offered for loans or credit with the same remaining maturities and the same terms to borrowers or customers with similar credit ratings.

Other current financial assets (derivatives), other current financial liabilities (derivatives), and other non-current financial liabilities (derivatives)

Level 1 and Level 2 derivatives are measured based on quoted market prices and on the prices provided by financial institutions with which the Group has business relationships. Level 3 derivatives are measured using the income approach and other approaches with unobservable inputs such as the estimated discount rate.

Bonds and borrowings

Except for cases where the carrying amount is virtually equal to the fair value, fair values of bonds and borrowings are measured by discounting future cash flows using interest rates offered for borrowings with the same remaining maturities and terms.

B. Financial Instruments Measured at Amortized Cost

(Millions of yen)

	As of March 31, 2022		As of March 31, 2023
	Carrying amount	Fair value	Carrying amount	Fair value
Financial assets measured at amortized cost:
Non-current financial assets other than investments (non-current loans receivable) and other current financial assets (current portion of non-current loans receivable)	708	703	840	774
Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost:
Bonds and borrowings	32,929	32,924	14,127	13,601

C. Hierarchy of Fair Value Measurement Recognized in the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position

IFRS 7, “Financial Instruments: Disclosure,” requires an entity to classify fair value measurements using the fair value hierarchy reflecting significance of inputs used for measurement of fair value.

The following shows levels in the fair value hierarchy:

Level 1— Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2— Inputs other than quoted market prices that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly

Level 3— Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability

The level in the fair value hierarchy used for fair value measurement is determined based on the lowest-level input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

Transfers between levels in the fair value hierarchy are recognized on the date on which an event or change in the situation resulting in the transfers arises.

Financial assets and financial liabilities recognized at fair value in the consolidated statement of financial position that are categorized into levels in the fair value hierarchy are shown below:

For financial instruments categorized into Level 3, no significant increase or decrease in the fair value is expected if one or more of the unobservable inputs are changed to reasonably possible alternative assumptions.

(7) FVTOCI Financial Assets

The Group classifies all equity instruments other than those accounted for by the equity method as FVTOCI financial instruments. These equity instruments are held for the purpose of maintaining and strengthening business relationships with investees.

(8) Derivatives and Hedges

Cash flow hedges

A cash flow hedge is a hedge of the exposure to variability in future cash flows arising in association with the forecasted transactions or already recognized assets or liabilities. Changes in fair value of derivatives designated as a cash flow hedge are recognized in other comprehensive income. This accounting treatment continues until changes in future cash flows arising in association with the unrecognized forecasted transactions or already recognized assets or liabilities that are designated as a hedged item are recognized in gains or losses. The ineffective portion of the hedge is recognized in profit or loss.

In accordance with its policy, the Group does not take a floating rate position to the extent possible for long-term funds raised to satisfy equity investment and other long-term fixed fund management. However, when funds are raised with floating interest rates, the Group enters into interest rate swaps to hedge the risks of fluctuations in cash flows arising from future changes in interest rates. The interest rate swaps are designated as cash flow hedges.

In applying hedge accounting, as a general rule, the Group tries to match notional amounts, periods (maturities) and fundamental figures of interest rates of hedging instruments and hedged items to maintain the effectiveness of hedging relationships over the hedge period. Hedge effectiveness also continues to be assessed after the application of hedge accounting. If an ineffective portion arises, the Group analyzes the cause for the ineffective portion. In the fiscal years ended March 31, 2022 and 2023, the amounts included in profit or loss in association with the ineffective portion of hedging and the portion excluded from the assessment of hedge effectiveness were not significant.

As of March 31, 2022 and 2023, effects of hedging instruments designated as hedges on the Group's consolidated statement of financial position are as follows:

(9) Offsetting of Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities

Some financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is presented in the consolidated statement of financial position since the Group has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts and intends either to settle on a net basis or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

For financial assets and financial liabilities recognized for the same counterparties, the components of amounts offset and not offset in the consolidated statement of financial position by type of financial instruments as of March 31, 2022 and 2023 are shown below:

In addition, subsidies under the “Countermeasures to Mitigate Drastic Changes in Fuel Oil Prices,” a measure taken by the Japanese government under the “Comprehensive Emergency Measures to Address Soaring Crude Oil and Commodity Prices and Related Matters,” are included in Industrial Business Division. Moreover, subsidies under the “Countermeasures to Mitigate Drastic Changes in Electricity and Gas Prices,” and subsidies related to electricity saving program under the “Project for Measures to Promote Efficient Use of Electricity,” measures taken by the Japanese government under the “Comprehensive Economic Measures to Overcome Rising Prices and Realize Economic Revival,” are included in Power & Utility Division.

All of the subsidies are accounted for in accordance with IAS20 “Accounting for Government Grants and Disclosure of Government Assistance” and included in revenue in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income.

(2) Contract Balances

The balances of receivables from contracts with customers, contract assets, and contract liabilities at the beginning and end of the period are as follows:

(Millions of yen)

	As of April 1, 2021	As of March 31, 2022	As of March 31, 2023
Receivables from contracts with customers	85,387	104,937	100,079
Contract assets	—	—	—
Contract liabilities	11,006	10,784	11,031

Contract liabilities are mainly related to advances received from customers. The amount of revenues recognized in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2022 that was included in the balance of contract liabilities at the beginning of the fiscal year is ¥11,006 million. The amount of revenues recognized in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2023 that was included in the balance of contract liabilities at the beginning of the fiscal year is ¥10,784 million. The decrease in the balance of contract liabilities in the fiscal years ended March 31, 2022 and 2023 was mainly due to satisfaction of performance obligations. The amount of revenue recognized in the fiscal years ended March 31, 2022 and 2023 from performance obligations satisfied (or partially satisfied) in past fiscal years was not significant.

(3) Transaction Price Allocated to Remaining Performance Obligations

The Group has no individual transactions with contract terms in excess of one year. Therefore, the Group applies a practical expedient that provides an exemption from disclosure of information regarding remaining performance obligations. The Group's contracts with customers have no significant consideration that is not included in the transaction price.

(4) Assets Recognized from the Costs to Obtain or Fulfill Contracts with Customers

The Group has no assets recognized from the costs to obtain or fulfill contracts with customers. The Group applies a practical expedient that permits the incremental costs of obtaining a contract to be expensed as incurred if the amortization period of the asset would be one year or less.

1. The Group owned the 50% of equity interest in two silent partnerships respectively, one with SHINKO LLC. and the other with TAKASAKI Megasolar LLC. as the operators, both of which are engaged in solar power generation. On November 30, 2021, the Group additionally acquired the equity interest held by the co-investor and owned the 100% of equity interest in two silent partnerships respectively. As a result of the acquisition of subsidiaries due to obtaining control through this transaction, a gain of ¥4,211 million from remeasurements relating to the acquisition of subsidiaries was recorded. Previously held equity interest before control was obtained was remeasured at its acquisition-date fair value. This fair value was calculated based mainly on the discounted present value of future cash flows, which were in turn based on future plans. Furthermore, in estimating these cash flows, the selling price and project period were set according to Feed-in Tariff (“FIT”) and the assumptions were made regarding energy generation amounts and costs associated with using solar power generation plants, as well as regarding the discount rate applied in the calculation of the discounted present value and other factors.

In addition to the above, in the fiscal years ended March 31, 2022 and 2023, net gain or loss on valuation of commodity-related derivatives was recognized at negative ¥1,120 million and ¥937 million, respectively, in revenue and cost of sales in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors of ITOCHU ENEX CO., LTD.:

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of ITOCHU ENEX CO., LTD. and its subsidiaries (the "Group"), which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as of March 31, 2023, and the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as of March 31, 2023, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRSs").

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Professional Ethics in Japan, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities as auditors. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matter

A key audit matter is a matter that, in our professional judgment, was of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. The matter was addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on the matter.

Impairment of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets (Note 4. Use of Estimates and Judgments, Note 31. Impairment Loss)
Key Audit Matter Description	How the Key Audit Matter Was Addressed in the Audit
The property, plant and equipment ("PP&amp;E") and intangible assets were 149,920 million yen and 20,237 million yen, respectively, in the consolidated statement of financial position as of March 31, 2023. The total of these assets accounted for 39.3% of the total assets on the consolidated statement of financial position. Impairment losses of PP&amp;E and intangible assets recorded for the year ended March 31, 2023, were 1,116 million yen and 2 million yen, respectively. The main components of PP&amp;E are land, buildings and other tangible assets pertaining to automobile sales outlets for the Car Life Division, as well as power generation, heat supply facilities and other tangible assets for the Power and Utility Division. The main components of intangible assets are the relationships with customers, brands, and relationships with suppliers as a result of business combinations. The Group conducts decision making in accordance with its internal investment criteria and subsequent periodic monitoring of its investments to mitigate various risks, including the risk of impairment of these assets. However, when the Group's external business environment or operating performance are worse than expected due to a variety of factors, including the trend toward decarbonization and fluctuations in resources prices, impairment of these assets may significantly affect the Group's financial position or operating results. The Group identifies indications of impairment, considering, among other matters, significant deterioration in the external business environment, changes in the extent or the manner in which an asset is used or expected to be used due to discontinuance of operations or other reasons, a significant decline in the value of an asset, and deterioration or the possibility of deterioration in economic performance of an asset by cash generating unit ("CGU"), which is the smallest identifiable group of assets that largely independently generate cash inflows. When indications of impairment are identified, the recoverable amount of a CGU is calculated at the higher of the value in use or the fair value less costs of disposal, and the impairment loss is recognized if the recoverable amount is less than the carrying amount of the CGU. The estimates of the budgets for the subsequent year, the future cash flows and the discount rates applied in the calculation of the discounted present value used to identify indications of impairment, recognize and measure of impairment contain key assumptions made by management and are therefore involve uncertainties and require management's judgment.	Our audit procedures related to the determination of whether the impairment accounting is properly applied to PP&amp;E and intangible assets included the following, among others: (1) Evaluation of internal controls <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Evaluated the design and operating effectiveness of controls over management's identification of possible indications of impairment, recognition and measurement of impairment. Specifically, we focused on the controls over the estimates of the budgets for the subsequent year, the future cash flows and the applied discount rates.</li> </ul> (2) Identification of indications of impairment, recognition and measurement of impairment <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Examined whether the events that should have been considered were reflected in management's judgment in identifying indications of impairment through inquiries of individuals in the related divisions of the Group and inspection of meeting minutes of various meeting bodies of the Group.</li> <li>• Tested the accuracy and completeness of the list of trends in operating result by CGU by analyzing such information and by agreeing the amounts per the list to other sources for the CGUs selected based on certain criteria.</li> <li>• Tested the reasonableness of the estimates of the budgets for the subsequent year and future cash flows by inspecting management's approval of the Group's budgets; performing analyses on the differences between the Group's past budgets and actual operating results; inquiring of individuals in the related divisions of the Group; and performing trend analyses on the past operating results.</li> </ul>

Therefore, we identified the impairment of PP&amp;E and intangible assets as a key audit matter.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Evaluated the appropriateness of the estimates of the applied discount rates by comparing such rates with the estimates based on readily available external information with the assistance of our valuation specialists.</li> </ul>

Other Information

Other information comprises the information included in the Group's disclosure documents accompanying the audited consolidated financial statements, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

We determined that no such information existed and therefore, we did not perform any work thereon.

Responsibilities of Management and Audit & Supervisory Board Members and the Audit & Supervisory Board for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with IFRSs, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern in accordance with IFRSs and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Audit & Supervisory Board members and the Audit & Supervisory Board are responsible for overseeing the Directors' execution of duties relating to the design and operating effectiveness of the controls over the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment. In addition, we obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain, when performing risk assessment procedures, an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate whether the overall presentation and disclosures of the consolidated financial statements are in accordance with IFRSs, as well as the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with Audit & Supervisory Board members and the Audit & Supervisory Board regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide Audit & Supervisory Board members and the Audit & Supervisory Board with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with Audit & Supervisory Board members and the Audit & Supervisory Board, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Interest Required to Be Disclosed by the Certified Public Accountants Act of Japan

Our firm and its designated engagement partners do not have any interest in the Group which is required to be disclosed pursuant to the provisions of the Certified Public Accountants Act of Japan.
