1. Qualitative Information on Quarterly Financial Results for the Period under Review

(1) Explanation of Operating Results

In the Japanese regenerative medicine industry, amid ongoing promotion of the industry by implementation of the Act on the Safety of Regenerative Medicine and the Revised Pharmaceutical Affairs Act of November 2014, 17 products were approved for manufacture and marketing as regenerative medicine products by the end of 2022. In addition, in the US, the Regenerative Medicine Advanced Therapy (RMAT) Designation program was established under the 21st Century Cures Act which was passed in December 2016, which enables expedited approval of regenerative medicine products for the purpose of treatment of serious diseases. In 2021, biologics license applications (BLAs) were approved for three products designated as RMAT, including one that received BLA approval as an RMAT-designated product for the first time. No RMAT-designated items received BLA approval in 2022, but 14 items received new RMAT designation. Even going into 2023, the practical application of regenerative medicine continued to make steady progress, with three products having received approval for manufacture and marketing as regenerative medicine products in Japan as well as two products designated as RMAT having received BLA approval in the US, as of the end of October.

In this environment, the Group (hereinafter referring to three companies: the Company, SanBio, Inc. of Mountain View, California, US, and SanBio Asia Pte. Ltd. of Singapore) promoted research and development aiming at the commercialization of its unique regenerative cell medicine, SB623, mainly for central nervous system diseases with high unmet medical needs.

For the SB623 development program for treatment of chronic traumatic brain injury, in the Phase 2 global clinical trial including Japan and involving 61 patients, the Group obtained positive results in November 2018 that the "patients treated with SB623 cells demonstrated a statistically significant improvement in their motor function compared to the control group, and the primary endpoint was met." In April 2019, the development program for treatment of chronic traumatic brain injury in Japan was chosen as a designated regenerative medical product by the Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare under the "SAKIGAKE Designation System." Since the designation, under the framework of the SAKIGAKE Designation System, the Company has negotiated with the Pharmaceuticals and Medical Devices Agency (PMDA), completed the SAKIGAKE comprehensive evaluation consultation in January 2022, and submitted the application for approval of manufacture and marketing of regenerative medicine products in Japan in March 2022 for the first time. In order to obtain approval, the Company is currently responding to the review by PMDA, as well as steadily proceeding with preparations for establishment of sales structure so that sales can be started promptly after approval is obtained. While the timing for approval is outside of the Company's control, the Company will aim to obtain the approval in Mach 2024.

For the SB623 development program for treatment of chronic hemorrhagic stroke that began following the positive results of the program for treatment of chronic traumatic brain injury, the Company is swiftly proceeding with efforts to begin clinical trials in Japan following the approval of the SB623 development program for treatment of chronic traumatic brain injury in Japan.

For the SB623 development program for treatment of chronic ischemic stroke, efforts are being made to swiftly begin clinical trials in Japan following the approval of the SB623 development program for treatment of chronic traumatic brain injury in Japan based on the results of an additional analysis on the Phase 2b clinical trial in 163 patients in the US, which failed to meet its primary endpoint.

Under these circumstances, during the nine months ended October 31, 2023, the Company recorded \(\frac{42}{447}\) million in research and development expenses mainly consisting of manufacturing-related costs incurred to obtain approval with respect to the SB623 development program for treatment of chronic traumatic brain injury. As a result, operating loss was \(\frac{43}{725}\) million (operating loss of \(\frac{46}{404}\) million for the same period in the previous fiscal year). On the other hand, the Company recorded \(\frac{41}{1912}\) million in foreign exchange gains as non-operating income, owing to the foreign exchange gains resulting from fluctuations in foreign exchange rates. Furthermore, ordinary loss was \(\frac{41}{1837}\) million (ordinary income of \(\frac{447}{447}\) million for the same period in the previous fiscal year), and net loss attributable to owners of parent was \(\frac{41}{1883}\) million (net loss attributable to owners of parent of \(\frac{41}{185}\) million for the same period in the previous fiscal year).

The Group consists of a single business segment, regenerative cell therapy using modified allogeneic stem [Therefore, description of business performance by segment is omitted.
