Other Special Notes	 A pass-through-type master lease agreement with the trust trustee as the lessor and NTT UD as the lessee is being concluded. The other co-owners shall have the right of preferential treatment in the event of transfer of the fee simple ownership and co-ownership. In addition, in the event that no other co-owners wish to make the acquisition, the property may be transferred to a third party with the written consent of other co-owners. When providing instructions, etc. related to the trust agreement, it is stated that this shall be done by agreement in advance between the quasi co-owners of the beneficiary trust and that decisions shall be made with a majority of the voting rights (based on the ratio of quasi co-ownership interests) if the quasi co-owners are unable to reach an agreement through consultation. The other co-owners shall have the right of preferential treatment in the event of plans to transfer the quasi co-ownership of beneficiary interest in trust to a third party. In addition, it is stated that the consent of the other quasi co-owners shall be obtained for other transfer, establishment of security and disposal, etc. of quasi co-ownership of the beneficiary interest in trust. The type of ownership related to the land of the property is not the sharing of site ownership seen in general types of co-ownership, but a possession in portion of the land that has been subdivided into two parcels. NUD will acquire a quasi co-ownership (a 192/1,000 portion of quasi co-ownership) of the beneficiary interest in trust taking the fee simple ownership of 12,320.89 m² and a 4,617/10,000 portion co-ownership for 4,128.48 m² as trust property. Note that the trust trustee has received the right of use of the site for the common land of other co-owners, but there is no registration of the right of use of the subject site.

- (Note 1) Each piece of information in "Location" (excluding residential indication), "Area," "Structure of Building" and "Construction Completion" is based on the information indicated in the certificate of registered matters. The "Area (Land)" is the area of the entire land and the "Area (Building)" is the total floor space of the entire building. The same applies hereinafter.
- (Note 2) "Tenant Details" indicate the figure as of December 31, 2023. The same applies hereinafter.
- (Note 3) The figure calculated by multiplying each figure for the entire property by the substantial ownership ratio of the quasi co-ownership interest of the beneficiary interest in trust to be acquired by NUD to the entire property (16.606368%) is indicated.
- (Note 4) The PML, or probable maximum loss, refers to the probability of the maximum loss expected to result from an earthquake. Although there is no single precise definition of PML, PML here is based on the event of the maximum earthquake that can be expected to occur in the region where the subject building is located (probable maximum earthquake = PME: an earthquake of a size that has a 10% probability of occurring within 50 years = occurs once every 475 years) occurring and is represented by expressing the construction costs required to restore the post-PME building to its pre-PME state as a percentage of the total construction costs required to reconstruct the building (= replacement cost). The figure does not take into account the impact of the collapse of neighboring buildings or fire, water, and other damages. The PML value of the entire building is indicated. The same applies hereinafter.
