

Notice of Agreement for Mergers through Absorption (Short-Form Mergers) of Consolidated Subsidiaries of Fujitsu Limited

Tokyo, May 22, 2015 – Fujitsu Limited announced today that it has concluded agreements for absorption-type mergers with both Fujitsu Telecom Networks Limited (Merger 1) and Fujitsu Wireless Systems Limited (Merger 2), both of which are consolidated subsidiaries of Fujitsu Limited.

Because both Merger 1 and Merger 2 (collectively “the mergers”) are absorption-type mergers of consolidated subsidiaries, certain disclosure items and details have been omitted from this notice.

1. Purpose of the Mergers

With the emergence of the cloud and IoT era, as information technologies and network technologies are becoming increasingly integrated, and as the volume of communications traffic continues to increase, the network products and services supporting ICT platforms are becoming increasingly important.

As Fujitsu looks to its next growth stage, to make further advances in network virtualization, provide global general-purpose products that take maximum advantage of advanced technologies, and accelerate the creation of new services to meet the wide variety of needs of network users for the emerging IoT era, the company will, through the mergers, integrate within Fujitsu Limited the network-related business currently divided among Fujitsu Telecom Networks and Fujitsu Wireless Systems.
