The corporate governance of Nippon Electric Glass Co., Ltd. (the “Company”) is described below.

I. Basic Views on Corporate Governance, Capital Structure, Corporate Profile, and Other Basic Information

1. Basic Views

The basic view of the Company is that enhanced corporate governance is beneficial in ensuring managerial transparency and strengthening operational supervisory functions.

[Reasons for Non-compliance with the Principles of the Corporate Governance Code]
Updated

[Supplementary Principle 4-11-3 Results of Analysis and Evaluation of the Effectiveness of the Board of Directors]

The Company is aware that it is important to evaluate the effectiveness of the Board of Directors as a whole and improve it based on the results of the evaluation. The Company will consider the methods of the evaluation and analysis.

[Disclosure Based on the Principles of the Corporate Governance Code] Updated

[Principle 1.4 Cross-Shareholdings]

When acquiring shares in listed companies for purposes other than investment, the Company makes decisions after thoroughly considering the rationale for the shareholding, such as in cases of business alliance and maintaining/enhancing business partnerships.

The company determines whether or not it is necessary to acquire or dispose of the aforementioned shares after verification from the perspective of whether or not the acquisition or disposal is necessary for the Company's growth and whether or not there are other methods for effectively utilizing the funds. It might be referred to the Board of Directors and the Management Committee for consideration as necessary.

In addition, the voting rights relating to the aforementioned shares are exercised after comprehensively considering a number of issues. These include whether or not the bill complies with the Company's shareholding policy, and whether or not it would contribute to the efficient and sound management of the issuing company and would be expected to increase the shareholders' value of the issuing company—and consequently the corporate value of the Company.

[Principle 1.7 Related Party Transactions]

In the Company, conflict-of-interest transactions involving the Directors and corporations over which any of the Directors have effective control require consideration and resolution by the Board of Directors, and the track records of these transactions are regularly reported to the Board of Directors.

The Company Group's Corporate Code of Conduct specifies fair and proper transactions with all partners in compliance with related laws and regulations. These requirements also apply to transactions with major shareholders.

[Principle 3.1 Full Disclosure]

(1) The Company operates under the following Corporate Philosophy: "We strive to build a brighter future for the world by uncovering the unlimited possibilities of glass for more advanced creative manufacturing". The Company also sets the Medium- and Long-Term Management Strategy and discloses such strategy on the Company's website (<http://www.neg.co.jp>; see Notice of Investor Relations).

(2) The basic views and policy on corporate governance of the Company are described in the above section of "I. Basic Views on Corporate Governance Capital Structure, Corporate Profile, and Other Basic Information” of this Corporate Governance Report.

(3) The remuneration of Directors is made up of monthly (fixed) remuneration and bonuses. The total amounts of bonuses are determined at the General Meeting of Shareholders in comprehensive consideration of responsibilities based on their performance results. The remuneration of Corporate Auditors is made up of monthly remuneration only and does not include any bonuses in consideration of their role to monitor and supervise the management from an independent standpoint. The remuneration of Directors is determined at a meeting of the Board of Directors attended by Outside Directors.

(4) In order to bring diversity to the Board of Directors in terms of experience, knowledge, and expertise, the President recommends candidates for Directorship who have a great sense of integrity, deep insight, strong ability, broad knowledge, and extensive experience and have achieved substantial results in their professional fields. An explanation of such candidates is also given to Outside Directors in advance, and the Board of Directors deliberates on the appointment based on the advice of the Outside Directors.

The Board of Directors deliberates on the appointment of Corporate Auditors, examining candidates who have a great sense of integrity, deep insight, strong ability, broad professional knowledge, and extensive experience, with the consent of the Board of Corporate Auditors.

(5) The reasons for the appointment of each Outside Director and Outside Corporate Auditor are described in reference document for General Meeting of Shareholders. Other Directors and Corporate Auditors are appointed based on their careers and others, and their respective careers are disclosed in reference document for the General Meeting of Shareholders.

[Supplementary Principle 4-1-1 Role of the Board of Directors and Scope of Delegation to the Management]

In addition to the matters stipulated in the laws and regulations and the Articles of Incorporation, the Board of Directors makes decisions on important matters for the Company Group, such as the basic management policy of the Company, the content of which is clearly defined in the Rules of Board of Directors and the Standard for Agenda of Board of Directors. Decision-making for other matters are delegated to the Management Committee and Executive Officers.

[Principle 4.9 Independence Standards and Qualifications for Independent Directors]

When appointing a candidate to serve as an independent Outside Director, the Company examines the independence of the candidate in accordance with the independence standards set by the Tokyo Stock Exchange.

[Supplementary Principle 4-11-1 Views on the Appropriate Balance among Knowledge, Experience, and Skills of the Board as a Whole, and also on Diversity and Appropriate Board Size]

The Company's basic stance regarding structure of the Board of Directors is to have twelve or fewer Directors and four or fewer Corporate Auditors in consideration of the balance of knowledge, experience, and skills as well as utilization of external human resources.

[Supplementary Principle 4-11-2 Status of Directors and Auditors Serving at Other Companies]

One of the two outside Corporate Auditors is an attorney at law and the other is a certified public accountant. The attorney concurrently serves as an Outside Corporate Auditor of another company. The status of the Outside Directors and Outside Corporate Auditors who serve at other companies is disclosed annually in reference document for the General Meetings of Shareholders, the securities reports, the Corporate Governance Report, and other relevant materials.

[Supplementary Principle 4-14-2 Policy on Training for Directors and Auditors]

For executive Directors and full-time Corporate Auditors, the Company holds compliance seminars inviting external lecturers during Compliance Awareness Month every October.

In addition, the Company also holds training sessions for Directors twice a year, to help them enhance their understanding of business conditions, including with regard to corporate governance. The Auditors acquire knowledge related to auditing through seminars and exchange of information by enrolling in external organizations.

[Principle 5.1 Policy on Constructive Dialogue with Shareholders]

In the Company, the Director in charge of administration is responsible for Investors Relations, and the Administrative Division is in charge of relevant practices. Requests for dialogues from shareholders, investors, and analysts are widely accepted and Investors Meetings for financial results are held after the end of the second and fourth quarters. Relevant materials as well as questions and answers raised at the Investors Meetings are posted on the Company's website in both Japanese and English to ensure appropriate disclosure of information.

[Incentives]

Incentive Policies for Directors	Other

Supplementary Explanation

The Company has abolished the retirement benefits system, and it has shifted the focus of the remuneration system for Directors from seniority-based to results and performance-based. In addition, the Directors (excluding Outside Directors) have already held a relatively large number of shares in the Company due to having continuously acquiring shares through the Company's shareholding association. They continue to purchase shares of the Company through the shareholding association. For this reason, the Company believes it will be able to entrust management of the Company to Directors by matching the interests of Directors and shareholders without preparing other incentives for increasing the corporate value, such as stock options.

Regarding the Board of Corporate Auditors, in collaboration with full-time Auditors, materials are delivered prior to the meeting in principle to ensure fruitful deliberation at the meeting. In addition, matters that critically impact the Company's Group are reported before or immediately after the event.

2. Matters on Functions of Business Execution, Auditing, Oversight, Nomination, and Remuneration Decisions (Overview of Current Corporate Governance System) Updated

An outline of the Company's corporate governance system is as follows.

(1) Directors, Board of Directors, and Executive Officers

The Company aims to realize rapid and decisive decision-making, managerial transparency, and strong execution of business affairs. The Company takes measures to ensure the optimal number of Directors and to clarify their functions of decision-making and supervising. The Company has introduced Executive Officers System to execute business operations. To achieve clarity of management responsibility and a flexible management system capable of responding to changes in the business environment, the Company has shortened the term of Directors to one year.

Regular Board of Directors Meetings are held on a monthly basis, and extraordinary Board of Directors Meetings are held as necessary, to make decisions regarding important managerial issues and to supervise the execution of business affairs (management monitoring). In addition, it attempt to monitor the management by receiving explanations directly from the Executive Officers about the summary of the business results of the current fiscal year and the budget of next fiscal year in their charges respectively at the budget meeting held once a year. Currently, the Board of Directors consists of seven inside Directors (including two Representative Directors) and two Outside Director (one is newly appointed at the 97th Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders held on March 30, 2016). The Company intends to strengthen the function of management monitoring by electing an economist and a former corporate manager as Outside Directors. The Outside Directors perform their roles independently and based on their professional viewpoints.

The Company has the President as the Chief Executive Officer and other 19 Executive Officers (including 5 serving concurrently as Directors) as of the last update. The terms of Executive Officers is one year (the same as that for the Director).

(2) Management Committee

Management Committee meetings are held to discuss and consider important business issues as well as details and implementation regarding managerial decisions made at Board of Directors Meetings. Management Committee meetings are held regularly twice a month and extraordinarily as necessary.

(3) Board of Corporate Auditors (including initiatives to enhance the function of Auditors)

The Company's Board of Corporate Auditors currently consists of four Corporate Auditors, two of whom are Outside Corporate Auditors as of the last update. Corporate Auditors carry out audits of the Directors' execution of their duties through assessing business affairs and corporate assets and setting important audit items according to auditing policies, plans, and assignment of duties established by the Board of Corporate Auditors as well as through participation in Board of Directors meetings.

Meetings of the Board of Corporate Auditors are held monthly in principle, and Corporate Auditors share information and exchange their views there. The Corporate Auditors will endeavor to improve the effectiveness of their audits through expanding their knowledge about the business of the Company. For this purpose, the Corporate Auditors take various measures, such as the attending at the budget meeting and periodically questioning Directors and/or Executive Officers about their duties and issues to be handled by them.

The Company intends to strengthen the function of auditing by electing a certified public accountant and an attorney as Outside Corporate Auditors. The Outside Corporate Auditors perform their audits independently and based on their professional viewpoints. Employees who belong to the Administrative Division shall assist Corporate Auditors in their duties as the need arises, and deliver necessary information to Corporate Auditors appropriately.

(4) Independent Auditor

The Company has elected KPMG AZSA LLC as its Accounting Independent Auditor to perform the accounting audit and has executed an auditing contract with it. The Company undergoes in KPMG AZSA LLC's audit under the Companies Act and the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act.

The status of the accounting audit for fiscal 2015 was as follows:

The name of certified public accountants who conducted the audit (years of audit experience)

Designated members with limited liability, executive members:

Katsumi Hashimoto (3 years), Motoharu Iyomasa(1 year), Koji Yasui (2 years)

Structure of supporting members

Certified Public Accountants: 8, others: 7

(5) Outline of the Limited Liability Contract

The Company has concluded a liability limitation agreement with each of Outside Directors and the Outside Corporate Auditors. This agreement specifies that, in compliance with Article 427, Paragraph 1 of the Corporation Law, when an an Outside Director or Outside Corporate Auditor bears liability for damage against the Company as stipulated in Article 423, Paragraph 1 of the Corporation Law, the relevant liability for damages shall be limited to the minimum liability for damages as stipulated in Article 425, Paragraph 1 of the Corporation Law, provided that said person execute his or her duties as Outside Director or an Outside Corporate Auditors of the Company in good faith and without gross negligence.

3. Reasons for Adoption of Current Corporate Governance System Updated

As described in the above section “2. Matters on Functions of Business Execution, Auditing, Oversight, Nomination, and Remuneration Decisions,” the Company believes the management monitoring function is working effectively.

The Company has two Outside Directors, including one newly appointed at the 97th Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders on March 30, 2016 in order to enhance management monitoring functions.

2. Other Matters concerning Corporate Governance Systems, etc.

The outline of our timely disclosure system is as follows.

The Company stipulates that “the NEG Group communicates with concerned parties and discloses necessary corporate information in a timely and appropriate manner” in the “Group Code of Conduct” as a basic policy of “Transmission of Information” to strive for timely and appropriate disclosure.

(1) Collection of the corporate information

The Company has established systems by which matters concerning the corporate information of each staff section/business section (including information of subsidiaries) are comprehensively reported to and collected by personnel responsible for information handling (the Executive Officers in charge of administration and accounting) or the Administrative Division (including IRs and legal functions)/the Accounting Division directly, or through approval systems or important meetings in a timely and appropriate manner in accordance with the rules, etc. set forth by the Company. In addition, such information is reported to the Board of Directors Meeting as the need arises.

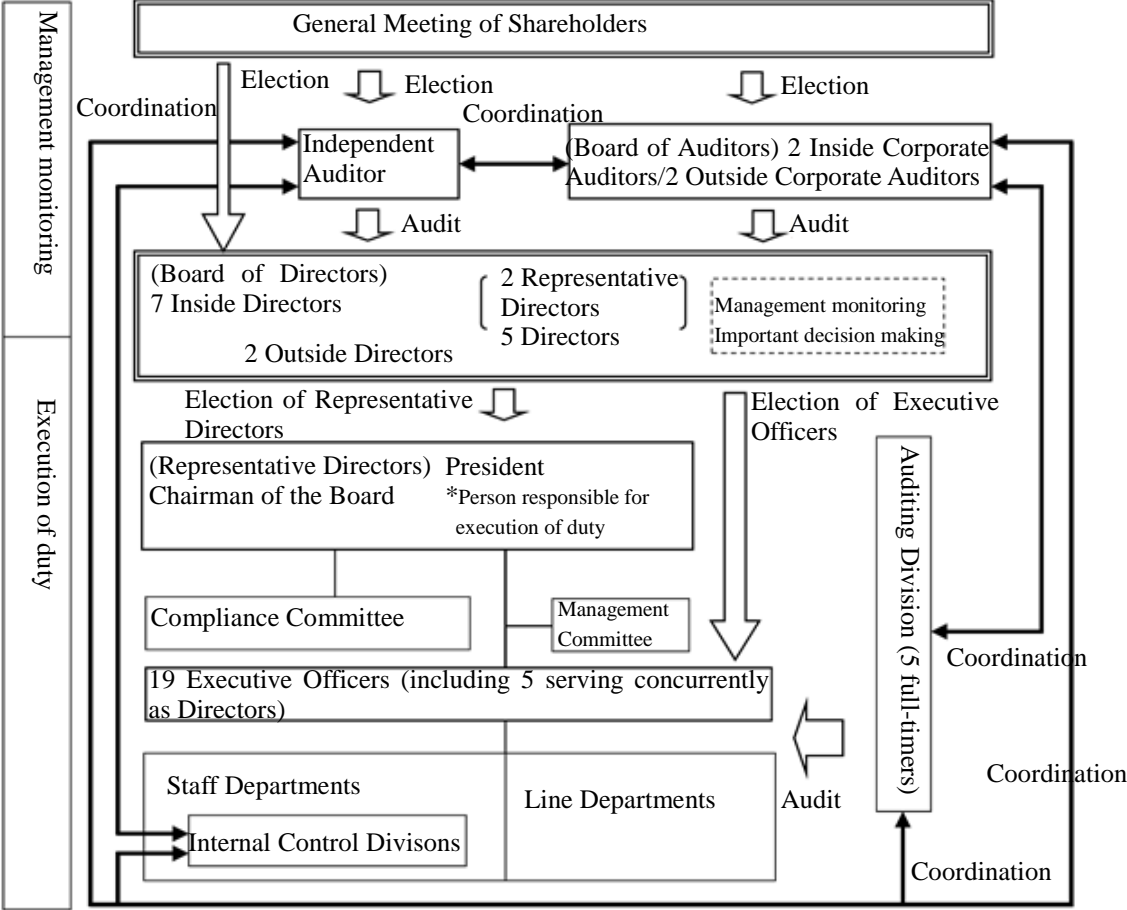

(2) Determination of necessity, methods, etc. of disclosure of the corporate information

As for matters concerning the corporate information collected, the Disclosure Consideration Committee considers the necessity, timing, method, etc. regarding disclosure in accordance with timely disclosure rules specified by the Tokyo Stock Exchange, the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act, and other relevant laws and regulations (hereinafter referred to as “Rules, etc.”). The results of the consideration are reported to and confirmed by the Management Committee, and final decisions regarding them are made by the President.

(3) Disclosure and announcement of the corporate information

The department in charge of disclosure and announcement (the Administrative Division) promptly discloses the corporate information that has been determined to be disclosed in a timely manner, and posted on the Company's website, in principle. In addition, corporate information not falling within the disclosure criteria set forth in the above (2), but is deemed to have an influence on the investment decisions of investors may be disclosed or announced after consideration of the necessity, etc. of disclosure through the same procedure.
