Other	(Operating revenue) Forecasting a net decrease in revenue compared to the previous period. Leasing revenue should rise due to the new acquisition of a office property and there will be a posting of property capital gain. However, we expect some tenant departures and a decline in utilities revenue due to seasonal factors. (Operating expenses) Major items are as follows. <table><tr><td>Property management fees:</td><td>975 million yen</td></tr><tr><td>Property taxes, etc.:</td><td>561 million yen</td></tr><tr><td>Depreciation:</td><td>1,349 million yen</td></tr><tr><td>Non-rental operating expenses:</td><td>604 million yen</td></tr></table> (Non-operating expenses) <table><tr><td>Interest expenses (including bond interest):</td><td>456 million yen</td></tr></table> (Distributions) Assuming that the entire amount of capital gains of 138 million yen (forecast) will be paid out in cash distributions to unitholders. Leasing revenue should rise as the office property bought in the previous period contributes for the entire period. Also, revenue should increase as a result of increased dividends from preferred securities. However, the capital gain posted in the previous period will go away. (Operating expenses) Major items are as follows. <table><tr><td>Property management fees:</td><td>974 million yen</td></tr><tr><td>Property taxes, etc.:</td><td>570 million yen</td></tr><tr><td>Depreciation:</td><td>1,362 million yen</td></tr><tr><td>Non-rental operating expenses:</td><td>556 million yen</td></tr></table> (Non-operating expenses) <table><tr><td>Interest expenses (including bond interest):</td><td>457 million yen</td></tr></table> (Distributions) Assuming that a reversal of 48 million yen will be drawn from the 260 million-yen reserve for reduction entry associated with property capital gains accumulated to date, and that the reversal will be added to net income and paid out as cash distributions to unitholders.
