Allowance for doubtful receivables on direct financing leases and probable loan losses:

The allowance for doubtful receivables on direct financing leases and probable loan losses is maintained at a level which, in the judgment of management, is appropriate to provide for probable losses inherent in lease and loan portfolios. The allowance is increased by provision charged to income and is decreased by charge-offs, net of recoveries. Developing the allowance for doubtful receivables on direct financing leases and probable loan losses is subject to numerous estimates and judgments. In evaluating the appropriateness of the allowance, management considers various factors, including the business characteristics and financial conditions of the obligors, current economic conditions and trends, prior charge-off experience, current delinquencies and delinquency trends, future cash flows expected to be received from the direct financing leases and loans and value of underlying collateral and guarantees. Impaired loans are individually evaluated for a valuation allowance based on the present value of expected future cash flows, the loan's observable market price or the fair value of the collateral securing the loans if the loans are collateral-dependent. For non-impaired loans, including loans that are not individually evaluated for impairment, and direct financing leases, the Company and its subsidiaries evaluate prior charge-off experience segmented by the debtors' industries and the purpose of the loans, and then develop the allowance for doubtful receivables on direct financing leases and probable loan losses considering the prior charge-off experience and current economic conditions.

The Company and its subsidiaries charge off doubtful receivables when the likelihood of any future collection is believed to be minimal considering debtors' creditworthiness and the liquidation status of collateral.

8) Recognition of liabilities for retirement benefits

The costs of pension plans are accrued based on amounts determined using actuarial methods, with assumptions of discount rate, rate of increase in compensation level, expected long-term rate of return on plan assets and others. Net actuarial loss is amortized using a corridor approach. In addition, the Company and its subsidiaries recognize an asset or a liability for the funded status of the pension plans, measured as the difference between the fair value of plan assets and the benefit obligation, on the consolidated balance sheet.

For overfunded pension plans, the excess amount is included in and presented as other assets, and for underfunded pension plans, the shortfall is included in and presented as other liabilities.

9) Revenue recognition

The revenues from contracts with customers, such as sales of goods and real estate, and services income, are recognized based on the following five steps;

Step 1: Identify the contract(s) with a customer

Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract

Step 3: Determine the transaction price

Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract

Step 5: Recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation

In accordance with these steps, revenues are recognized to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in the amounts that reflect the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. Revenues are recognized net of discount, incentives and estimated sales returns. In case that the Company and its subsidiaries receive payment from customers before satisfying performance obligations, the amounts are recognized as contract liabilities. In transactions that involve third parties, if the Company and its subsidiaries control the goods or services before they are transferred to the customers, revenue is recognized on gross amount as the principal.

Excluding the aforementioned policy, the policies as specifically described hereinafter are applied for each of the revenue items.

Finance revenues

Revenues from direct financing leases:

The excess of aggregate lease rentals plus the estimated unguaranteed residual value over the cost of the leased equipment constitutes the unearned lease income to be taken into income over the lease term by using the interest method. Initial direct costs of leases are being deferred and amortized as a yield adjustment over the life of the related lease by using interest method.

Revenues from installment loans:

Interest income on installment loans is recognized on an accrual basis. Certain direct loan origination costs, net of origination fees, are being deferred and amortized over the contractual term of the loan as an adjustment of the related loan's yield using the interest method.

Revenues from financial guarantees:

At the inception of a guarantee, fair value for the guarantee is recognized as a liability in the consolidated balance sheet. The Company and its subsidiaries recognize revenue mainly over the term of guarantee by a systematic and rational amortization method as the Company and the subsidiaries are released from the risk of the obligation.

Operating leases

Revenues from operating leases are recognized on a straight-line basis over the contract terms.

10) Impairment of long-lived assets

Long-lived assets to be held and used in operations, including tangible assets and intangible assets being amortized, shall be tested for recoverability whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the assets might be impaired. The assets are considered not recoverable when the undiscounted future cash flows estimated to be generated by those assets are less than the carrying amount of those assets, and the net carrying amount of assets not recoverable is reduced to fair value if lower than the carrying amount.

11) Goodwill and other intangible assets

Goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible assets are not amortized but tested at least annually for impairment. Intangible assets with finite lives are amortized over their useful lives and tested for impairment.

12) Accounting for consumption taxes

Consumption tax and local consumption tax are excluded from the consolidated statement of income.

13) Adoption of consolidated tax return

The Company and certain subsidiaries have elected to file a consolidated tax return for National Corporation tax purposes.

(4) Additional Information

As of October 26, 2018, the Company decided to acquire common shares of its domestic subsidiary, DAIKYO INCORPORATED (hereinafter, "DAIKYO") through a tender offer (hereinafter, "the Tender Offer"), and with the establishment of the Tender Offer, the Company decided to change the method of collecting undistributed earnings of DAIKYO from collection through a taxable transaction to collection through a tax free transaction. As of December 10, 2018, the Tender Offer was concluded. Along with the establishment of the event, the Company completely reversed the deferred tax liabilities previously recorded for undistributed earnings of DAIKYO. As a result of this reversal of deferred tax liabilities, income taxes decreased by ¥27,376 million in the consolidated statement of income.

2. Changes in Significant Basis of Preparation of Consolidated Financial Statements

(1) Changes in Scope of Consolidation and Application of the Equity Method

1) Changes in scope of consolidation

Addition of 121 subsidiaries due mainly to acquisitions and deduction of 69 subsidiaries due mainly to divestitures during the current fiscal year

2) Changes in scope of application of the equity method

Addition of 52 affiliates due mainly to acquisitions and deduction of 44 affiliates due mainly to divestitures during the current fiscal year

(2) Changes in Accounting Policies

(Application of New Accounting Standards)

In May 2014, Accounting Standards Update 2014-09 (“Revenue from Contracts with Customers”—ASC 606 (“Revenue from Contracts with Customers”)) was issued, and related amendments were issued thereafter. The core principle of these Updates requires that an entity should recognize revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The Company and its subsidiaries adopted these Updates on April 1, 2018, using the cumulative-effect method, for only those contracts that are not completed at the date of initial adoption. The adoption primarily resulted in changes in the timing of revenue recognition for performance fees received from customers regarding asset management business, and certain project-based orders in real estate business for which the Company and its subsidiaries currently apply the percentage-of-completion or completed contract method. The effect of adopting these Updates on the Company and its subsidiaries’ financial position at the adoption date was mainly an increase of ¥405 million in retained earnings in the consolidated balance sheet. There are no material effects on the Company and its subsidiaries’ results of operations for fiscal 2019 and financial position as of March 31, 2019 by adopting these Updates, as compared to the guidance that was in effect before the change.

In January 2016, Accounting Standards Update 2016-01 (“Recognition and Measurement of Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities”—ASC 825-10 (“Financial Instruments—Overall”)) was issued. This Update requires an entity to measure equity investments at fair value, and requires recognizing the changes in fair value through earnings or using alternative method that requires carrying value to be adjusted by subsequent observable transactions. Additionally, this Update revises the presentation of certain fair value changes for financial liabilities measured at fair value. The Company and its subsidiaries adopted this Update on April 1, 2018. The effect of adopting this Update on the Company and its subsidiaries’ financial position at the adoption date was mainly a decrease of ¥2,899 million in accumulated other comprehensive income and an increase of ¥2,899 million in retained earnings in the consolidated balance sheet, due to reclassification of unrealized changes in fair value of equity investments from accumulated other comprehensive income to retained earnings, and reclassification of changes in fair value of financial liabilities resulting from a change in the instrument-specific credit risk when the Company and its subsidiaries have elected to measure the liabilities at fair value in accordance with the fair value option, from retained earnings to accumulated other comprehensive income.

In October 2016, Accounting Standards Update 2016-16 (“Intra-Entity Transfers of Assets Other Than Inventory”—ASC 740 (“Income Taxes”)) was issued. This Update eliminates the exception to defer the income tax consequences of intra-entity transfers of assets other than inventory until the assets are ultimately sold to an outside party and requires the recognition of the current and deferred tax consequences when those transfers occur. The Company and its subsidiaries adopted this Update on April 1, 2018. The effect of adopting this Update on the Company and its subsidiaries’ financial position at the adoption date was mainly an increase of ¥3,772 million in retained earnings in the consolidated balance sheet.

(3) Reclassifications

Revenues from financial guarantees in the consolidated statement of income have been reclassified from “Services income” to “Finance revenues” from fiscal 2019. This change aims to reflect revenue structure of the Company and its subsidiaries more appropriately accompanying the adoption of ASC606 (“Revenue from Contracts with Customers”).

5. Financial Instruments

(1) Information on Financial Instruments and Risk Management

The Company and its subsidiaries conduct a diverse array of businesses including finance, investment, life insurance, banking, asset management, auto-related business, real estate, and environment and energy. We execute our funding activities by borrowings from financial institutions, funding from capital markets (such as through issuances of bonds, medium-term notes or commercial paper and securitization of leases, loans receivables and other assets) and deposits. Financial assets and liabilities, which the Company and its subsidiaries have, are mainly subject to credit risk, market risk and liquidity risk (risk relating to funding). We manage each of these risks according to its characteristics.

1) Credit Risk Management

We define credit risk as uncertainty regarding future recovery of investments caused by fluctuations in cash flow from debtors and investees.

To analyze credit risk, we evaluate the adequacy of collateral and guarantees, the securitization of receivables and the diversification of debtors and their business types. A typical practice is to conduct a comprehensive customer credit evaluation based on the customer's financial position, cash flow, underlying security interests, profitability and other factors of individual credit transactions.

Moreover, an analysis of our portfolio and measures to establish appropriate credit limits allow us to control exposure to potentially higher risk markets.

2) Market Risk Management

We define market risk as the risk of changes in the fair value of assets and liabilities caused by changes in market variables, such as interest rates, exchange rates and stock prices.

We have established and maintained Group-wide ALM (asset-liability management) rules to comprehensively verify and understand the market risks.

Interest rate risk is comprehensively evaluated based on factors such as the expected impact of interest rate changes on periodic profit and loss and/or the balance sheet, the assets and liabilities positions and the funding environment. The analysis methods we use are modified, as required, depending on the situation.

We generally manage exchange rate risk by using foreign currency-denominated loans, foreign exchange contracts and currency swaps to hedge exchange rate volatility in our business transactions in foreign currencies and overseas investments. We monitor and manage exchange rate risk relating to unhedged foreign currency-denominated assets and retained earnings of foreign subsidiaries using indicators such as VaR (value at risk) and adjusting hedge positions as needed based on changes in the market environment at any given time.

For assets under management in our banking business, our life insurance business and our overseas operations, we regularly monitor monetary policies, macroeconomic indicators and securities and financial market trends and country risk, and we manage our asset portfolios by analyzing individual security price movements (both gains and losses). Market volatility is managed according to guidelines that include fixed loss amounts and decreases in position. Our credit department monitors our compliance with the guidelines.

3) Liquidity Risk Management (Risk Management Relating to Funding)

We define liquidity risk as the risk that we will be unable to obtain required funds or that we will be forced to procure funds at an unusually high rate of interest due to market turmoil, a sharp deterioration in the financial condition of ORIX or other reasons.

To reduce liquidity risk, we diversify fund procurement methods and sources and constantly monitor liquidity on hand. To manage liquidity on hand, we project future cash flows and analyze liquidity risk using hypothetical stress scenarios. We take necessary measures so that our businesses may withstand adverse market changes.

The effect on the business of each subsidiary is monitored by ascertaining liquidity risk in each subsidiary and in every country in which the Company operates. We take appropriate measures to mitigate liquidity risk, including through such action as parent-to-subsidary lending.

ORIX Bank and ORIX Life Insurance are engaged in retail financial activities for individual customers and are regulated by Japanese financial authorities. They are required to manage liquidity risk independently from other subsidiaries based on their internal regulations formulated according to the relevant regulations.

(2) Estimated Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying amount of financial instruments reported in the consolidated balance sheet, their estimated fair value and the differences between them as of March 31, 2019 are as follows:

15) Derivative liabilities	(24,461)	(24,461)	—

Notes: 1. The carrying amount of ¥47,531 million of equity securities without readily determinable fair values and the carrying amount of ¥75,923 million of investment funds that are accounted for under the equity method are not included in 4) Equity securities in the above table.

2. The carrying amount of ¥145,543 million of demand deposits is not included in 12) Deposits in the above table.

3. Liabilities or negative values are shown in parentheses.

(3) Method of Estimating Fair Value of Financial Instruments

1) 2) 8) 11) Cash and cash equivalents, restricted cash, time deposits and short-term debt

The carrying amounts recognized in the balance sheet were determined to be reasonable estimates of their fair values due to their short maturity.

3) Installment loans (net of allowance for probable loan losses)

The carrying amounts of floating-rate installment loans with no significant changes in credit risk which could be repriced within a short-term period were determined to be reasonable estimates of their fair values. The carrying amounts of purchased loans were determined to be reasonable estimates of their fair values because the carrying amounts (net of allowance) are considered to properly reflect the recoverability and value of these loans. For certain homogeneous categories of medium- and long-term fixed-rate loans, the estimated fair values were calculated by discounting the future cash flows using the current interest rates charged by the Company and its subsidiaries for new loans made to borrowers with similar credit ratings and remaining maturities as of the end of the period. Concerning the above, if available, estimated fair values were based on quoted market prices or quotations provided by dealers.

4) Equity securities

For equity securities whose active market prices are available, such as listed shares, the estimated fair values were based on quoted active market prices. If active market prices are not available, the estimated fair values were based on other observable prices. For certain investment funds, the fair values were estimated based on discounted cash flow methodologies or appraisals.

5) 6) 7) Trading debt securities, available-for-sale debt securities and held-to-maturity debt securities

For trading debt securities and available-for-sale debt securities other than certain mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities, the estimated fair values, which are also the carrying amounts recorded in the balance sheet, were generally based on quoted market prices or quotations provided by dealers. As for the certain mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities included in available-for-sale debt securities, the Company and its subsidiaries estimated the fair value by using valuation models such as discounted cash flow methodologies and broker quotes. For held-to-maturity debt securities, the estimated fair values were mainly based on quoted market prices.

9) 15) Derivatives

For exchange-traded derivatives, fair value is based on quoted market prices. Fair value estimates for other derivatives generally reflect the estimated amounts that the Company and its subsidiaries would receive or pay to terminate the contracts at the balance sheet date, thereby taking into account the current unrealized gains or losses of open contracts. In estimating the fair value of most of the Company's and its subsidiaries' derivatives, estimated future cash flows are discounted using the current interest rate.

10) 13) Reinsurance recoverables and Policy liabilities and Policy account balances

A certain subsidiary has fixed annuity contracts, variable annuity and variable life insurance contracts, and reinsurance contracts which are classified as investment contracts because they do not expose the subsidiary to mortality or morbidity risks. In estimating the fair value of those contracts, estimated future cash flows are discounted using the current interest rate.

12) Deposits

The estimated fair values of time deposits were calculated by discounting the future cash flows. The current interest rates offered for the deposits with similar terms and remaining average maturities were used as the discount rates.

14) Long-term debt

The carrying amounts of long-term debt with floating rates which could be repriced within short-term periods were determined to be reasonable estimates of their fair values. For medium- and long-term fixed-rate debt, the estimated fair values were calculated by discounting the future cash flows. The borrowing interest rates that would be currently available to the Company and its subsidiaries offered by financial institutions for debt with similar terms and remaining average maturities were used as the discount rates. Concerning the above, if available, estimated fair values were based on quoted market prices or quotations provided by dealers.

Debt Securities: Stated at amortized cost

2. Method of Valuation of Derivative Financial Instruments

Stated at fair value

3. Method of Valuation of Inventories

4. Depreciation and Amortization Method of Non-Current Assets

Property, Plant and Equipment

Leased Assets:

Declining-balance method, except for buildings (excluding fixtures) acquired on or after April 1, 1998, and buildings fixtures and structures acquired on or after April 1, 2016, which are depreciated using the straight-line method.

Office Facilities:

Declining-balance method, except for buildings (excluding fixtures) acquired on or after April 1, 1998, and buildings fixtures and structures acquired on or after April 1, 2016, which are depreciated using the straight-line method.

All bond issuance costs and stock issuance costs are charged to expense as incurred.

6. Translation of Assets and Liabilities Denominated in Foreign Currencies

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Japanese yen at exchange rates in effect at the end of the fiscal year. Foreign exchange gains or losses resulting from translation are recognized in the non-consolidated statement of income.

7. Basis of recording Allowances

Allowance for Doubtful Receivables:

To provide for possible losses on uncollectable receivables, an allowance for doubtful receivables is recorded at the amount calculated based on the historical loss rate with respect to receivables from normal borrowers and from caution-needed borrowers and at the amount determined in consideration of collectability of individual receivables with respect to receivables from borrowers who are legally or substantially bankrupt.

Provision for loss on guarantees:

To provide for possible losses on guarantees, a provision for loss on guarantees is recorded at the amount calculated based on the historical loss rate and, as necessary, at the amount individually determined in consideration of possibility of incurring losses.

Provision for Retirement Benefits for Employees:

To provide for employees' retirement benefits, provision for retirement benefits or prepaid pension cost is recorded at the amount determined based on the projected retirement benefit obligations and estimated plan assets at the end of the fiscal year.

In determining retirement benefit obligations, the benefit formula basis is used for the method of attributing expected benefit to the periods until the end of the fiscal year.

Prior service costs are amortized by the straight-line method over the average remaining service period of the employees at the time of occurrence of such costs.

Actuarial gains or losses are amortized by the straight-line method over the average remaining service period of the employees at the time of occurrence of such gains or losses, commencing from the following fiscal year.

Provision for Retirement Benefits for Directors:

The Company maintains a stock compensation program to provide for directors' compensation. Under this program, points are granted based upon the prescribed standards of the Company and the Company's shares are given to directors at the time of retirement according to the accumulated points through "The Board Incentive Plan Trust ("the Trust")". Therefore, the estimated amount required to be paid at the balance sheet date is recorded as provision for retirement benefits for directors based on the points granted multiplied by the Trust's acquisition price of the Company's shares.

8. Recognition of Revenues and Expenses

Recognition of sales and cost of sales from finance lease:

Sales and cost of sales from finance leases are recognized when lease payments should be received.

Recognition of sales from operating lease:

Sales from operating lease are recognized based on the monthly lease payments due under the respective lease agreements over the lease terms.

Recognition of sales and cost of sales from installment sales:

Total amount of receivable of installment sales is recognized as “accounts receivable - installment sales” on the transaction date, and sales and cost of sales are recognized when each payment becomes due under the respective installment sales agreements.

Unrealized profits for accounts receivable - installment sales not yet due are deferred.

Allocation of interest expense:

Interest expense is allocated to cost of sales and other expenses.

For the allocation, the total assets are divided into assets associated with operating transactions and others. Based on the respective balance of assets, interest expenses associated with operating assets are included in cost of sales as capital cost and interest expenses associated with other assets are included in non-operating expenses.

Capital cost is recorded as interest expenses associated with operating assets after deducting interest income for corresponding deposits.
