4. Forecast of annual dividend per share for the year ending March 31, 2021

In order to secure sustainable growth in corporate value, one of the fundamental business policies for Daiichi Sankyo is to decide profit distribution based on comprehensive consideration around the investments essential for implementing its growth strategies, and returning profits to its shareholders.

In the current 5-year Business Plan, Daiichi Sankyo introduced a total return ratio* of 100% or more from fiscal year 2016 to fiscal year 2022, and in terms of dividend payments, to distribute annual dividend per share of 70 yen or more.

Now, Daiichi Sankyo has decided to increase the forecast of annual dividend per share for the year ending March 31, 2021 in order to further strengthen shareholder return.

As stated above, since Daiichi Sankyo will carry out a share split at a ratio of three-for-one on Thursday, October 1, 2020 as the effective date, the forecast of annual dividend per share for the year ending March 31, 2021 is 40.50 yen per ordinary share before the split at the end of second quarter, and 13.50 yen per ordinary share after the split at fiscal year-end.

The forecast of annual dividend per share shows the pre-split amount since it cannot be simply compared with the fiscal year which ended on March 31, 2020 due to the implementation of the share split and the end of second quarter dividend will be 40.50 yen per share. Therefore, the annual dividend per share is forecasted to be 81 yen (pre-split standard).

As a result, the annual dividend per share (pre-split standard) is expected to practically increase by 11 yen.

* Total return ratio = (Total amount of dividend + Total acquisition cost of treasury shares) / Profit attributable to owners of the Company

(Record date)	Annual dividend per share
	First quarter	Second quarter	Third quarter	Fiscal year-end	Total
	Yen	Yen	Yen	Yen	Yen
Year ended March 31, 2020	—	35.00 (Before split)	—	35.00 (Before split)	70.00 (Before split)
Year ending March 31, 2021 (Forecast)	—	40.50 (Before split)	—	13.50 (After split)	—

Note: The annual dividend per share (Forecast) is totally 81.00 yen for the year ending March 31, 2021.
